II. Introduction

Since this game is fairly fresh, a Bestiary might be quite helpful to those who haven't completed a certain enemy or new boss, and are interested in their statistics.

This may also be helpful if you are interested in completing your ingame Bestiary 100%, and aren't sure what enemy you're looking for to finish off.

If you're searching for one Bestiary entry in particular, type Ctrl-F and search for the number you're looking for.

III. Short FAQ

Seems a few things need to be addressed, as continued questions on the matter seem to pop up. I try to answer email questions, but most of them have been things that could easily be solved with a little common sense, so try to be sure what you're asking hasn't been covered here.

a) Three Step Peninsula

This an area that certain encounters can only be found. Just a few things to note. First and foremost, the name isn't entirely correct, but I like the ring of it anyways.

Secondly, you can find this area very easily. It is a small piece of land on the left wall of the underworld. You'll know it by there only being three spaces to walk on that line up vertically.

Thirdly, the monsters in this particular locale aren't exactly indigenous to this location, I just like the mystique it gives. All encounters listed under "three step peninsula" can also be found on the very southern most parts of the land mass the Sylvan Cave is on.

Lastly, I feel this one is fairly important. If an encounter is listed as being found in this area, IT IS THERE. You might go an hour without seeing Gorgon, for example, but it is there.

It really is.

b) Lunar Ruins

A lot of monsters that from locations that can only be visited once are also listed as being found in the Lunar Ruins. I figured it would be self-explanatory, but I've gotten a lot of emails about it.

Basically, you'll find them on the various Floors of Remembrance, particularly the ones that resemble the areas you could initially find them.

For example, #70 Hell Turtle, can be found on the Floor of Remembrance that resembles the first floor of the Tower of Zot. Tower of Babel enemies will be found on the floor that resembles the Tower of Babel, and so forth.

New enemies exclusive to the Lunar Ruins are typically found on all floors, mixed with previous enemies. Some, like #178 Gilgamesh are found mostly on floors that resemble the Lunar Subterrane and hold a single chest. Also note that Gilgamesh is just a bad translation for a turtle type enemy, and not the nut from FFV. =/

c) Common Problems

These are the questions that seem to pop up a lot, so I'll address them here quickly. More to come if necessary, but I'm hoping not. ;o

#84 Mystery Egg

A lot of people seem to ask this, so it's probably worth mentioning. Whatever hatches out of a Mystery Egg will NOT be added to your Bestiary. You'll have to find your Dragons the old fashioned way, fellas. >:/

#103 Green Dragon & #105 Mythril Golem

Both of these little guys can be found on your second trip into the Tower of Babel. Best bet is the room right before you find the Falcon.

If you miss them, don't fret! Both can be found in the Lunar Ruins, in the Floor of Remembrance that resembles the Tower of Babel, music and all.

#124 Yellow Dragon

You're guaranteed the chance to fight one at the end of the Sealed Cavern. The final Trap Door will always transform into one, so take that particular battle slowly.

If you miss him there, you can also find them in the Cave of Trials. Using a Siren on the first floor there will always net you a Yellow Dragon.

#192 Bandit

Our pal here is found in the Lunar Ruins, specifically, during Cecil's trial. You'll have the option to either fight him or not as part of your goody-goody test. Fighting him is the only way to get his Bestiary entry, and it is the "Paladin" thing to do, so don't forget to do it.

The only problem is that the deeds Cecil has to do during his trial are random, so you aren't guaranteed to come across this one immediately. However, there are a few items that can only be gained from Cecil's trial, so you'll probably end up doing it a few times anyway.

To repeat a character's trial, just use the Grimoire you won. For example, to repeat Cecil's trial, just use the Grimoire IO in battle, and you'll be able to re-enter Cecil's trial next time you get there.

IV. One Timers

There are a few monsters who can only be found in areas that are only accessible for a short time in the game. Some can be found later in the large bonus dungeon included in the GBA version, the Lunar Ruins, however it is recommended you pick them up immediately, if you are a completionist. =)

There are also two bosses that can be missed depending on how you go about defeating them.

We'll briefly discuss the two areas that can only be accessed for a short time, and the two bosses that can be missed.

Monsters that are encountered in these locations but are not listed as being missable can be found in the large post game dungeon, the Lunar Ruins.

a) The Tower of Zot

There are quite a few monsters that can only be encountered here. Be sure to pick up the following:

#61 Puppet

#64 Centaur Knight

#65 Gremlin

b) The Tower of Babel

Another dungeon only accessible for a short time.

Remember that you'll come through two different parts of the tower, each complete with varying encounters. Be sure to pick up the following:

- #87 Naga
- #90 Fiery Knight
- #93 Chimera
- #95 Sorcerer
- #99 Grudger
- #101 Security Eye

Note that #97 Lamia Matriarch, is also found in the Tower of Babel, but can also be found in the Lunar Ruins.

#103 Green Dragon, has also been the source of frustration for several people. He's a very rare encounter in the Tower of Babel, and can be found just outside the room the Falcon is stored. He can also be found more reliably in the Lunar Ruins.

#105 Mythril Golem, also a rare encounter, is found in the same part of the Tower of Babel as Green Dragon. He can also be found more reliably in the Lunar Ruins.

c) The Giant of Babel

While the Giant of Babel is indeed a location that will only be visited once, ALL of the monsters found within can be found in the Lunar Ruins. This includes Last Arm, found in a chest in the Giant of Babel.

If you're in a hurry to get as many entries into your Bestiary as possible, you can still get them all here. However, since they can all be found in the Lunar Ruins, I wouldn't stress it too much.

d) Calcobrena (#206)

We all know this fight.

Unfortunately, if you are a speedy master of the killing thrust, you can miss Calcobrena entirely by killing off all the Calcos and Brinas before they form.

Just sort of take it easy and leave a few of them, and they should merge to form Calcobrena, netting you Calcobrena's Bestiary entry.

e) Barnabas-Z (#212)

If you pick on the poor Doctor, you'll be punished.

Concentrate your attacks on Barnabas rather than Doctor, and you'll be able to encounter Barnabas-Z.

VI. The Nonconformists

Some monsters do not have Bestiary entries, for whatever reason. Simply for completion's sake, I'll list them here. I'd imagine most of them didn't deserve spots because they were gag monsters in the Developer's Room. Others may have been omitted for memory reasons.

Dev Team Office:

- Kazuhiko Aoki (1000 HP)
- Hiroyukilto (1969 HP)
- Tetsuya Takahashi (65000 HP, can drop Phoenix Down)
- Hiromi Nakada (60000 HP, can drop Maiden's Kiss)
- Katsuhisa Higuchi (2 HP, can drop Magazine)
- Kiyoshi Yoshii (65000 HP)

Tower of Babel:

- King Eblan
- Queen Eblan

Lunar Ruins:

- Melt Bomb

VII. Recognition

- El Sabotender, my good buddy
- The moonlight knight
- SquareEnix, of course.
- Fro, compilation of one timer encounters
- Deathless, misc. error checks + hidden monster values <3
- Keith McLeod, ditto
