If your name is not on the permission area, then please Email me in my contact email, either on the top or bottom of this document. If I feel your site is not trustworthy, then you will not be granted permission to host my guide. No ands ifs or buts about it.

This guide consists of all the items found in the Gameboy Advance US version of Final Fantasy V. There are some name changes to previous versions, and some new items. Listed below are every single item in the game, along with full descriptions. If you have any questions or comments then please email me. If I missed any items, then try and describe what the item does, and it's location. Please title all email concerning this document as "Final Fantasy V Item FAQ" so it doesn't get sent to spam messages.

Note This is not a guide about spells so you will not find spells included, however if an item has a spell effect of some type, it IS included with this guide.

NOTE To reduce the confusion on attack power, take the total attack power of each weapon and add 3 to it, I have listed the actual value (the difference between base attack (3) and total power after equipping the weapon). The Healing Staff, Power Staff, Wonder Rod, and Rune bow drop all attack power to 0. However the Hyper Wrist does add 10 to the above items attack power.

Note To make things easier to find, please use the CTRL-F codes in the Table of Contents to find what ever item type you are looking for.

Started FAQ November 20, 2006

Version; 1.00; Complete list of items, weapons, armor, accessories, key items, and shopping list; Completed November 30, 2006.

Version; 1.01; Fixed a few small errors I made. Made a note on weapon attack values at top of document, and at the start of the weapons section. Also added missing items Kornago Gourd, Titan's Gloves, Spear, Magic Lamp, and Javelin <credit to psyemys(at)hotmail(dot)com for the info on Javelin, once I get a confirmed name I will update with that name in the credit area> December 3, 2006.

Version 1.02; Added missing items, Ragnorak, and Blitz Whip. *Note to the person who emailed me. I will add your name as soon as I am able to get into my email without a hundred files pop up (don't really want to crash my system) This will be considered my final version for now, and will make one final update at a later time if there is anything else I overlooked. December 26, 2006.

Bosses;

Soul Cannon (rare steal), Gilgamesh (1), Tyrannosaur, Dragon Pod, Crystal x4 (steal), Exdeath (steal), Triton/Nereid/Phobos (rare steal), Leviathan (steal), Azulmagia (steal), Catastrophe (steal), Necrophobe (steal), Omega MKII (steal), Neo Shinryu (steal)

Q: Are there items that can be missed.

A: Several items can be missed. Some boss steals, shops in Tule, Walse, Lix, and Istory will disappear during the final stages of the game. Some enemies are limited to what time you can battle them (though most items are stealable from other enemies as well), many dungeons become unavailable after completing them (Hint HINT; Karnak Castle), other than that, the rest are available by revisiting the areas that have those items.

Q: I have noticed that your stats for weapons are off by 3, what gives?

A: Very simple answer to that. The minimum attack without a weapon is 3. Unless it is one of the weapons (mainly rods and staves) that drops attack to 0, then add the number I have given and add three. It can be confusing, but those are the true stats of the equipment.
