1) INTRODUCTION

*****

Doubutsu no Mori + (DnM+), or Animal Forest +, was released by Nintendo for Nintendo GameCube (GCN) in Japan on December 14, 2001, nine months before the release of Animal Crossing (AC) in North America.

This guide assumes that the player is familiar with Animal Crossing, and concentrates on things that are different in DnM+ when compared to AC.

Much of the DnM+ gameplay is the same as that in AC.

*****

2) TECHNICAL GAMEPLAY

*****

Doubutsu no Mori + was manufactured to play in a Japanese Nintendo GameCube. It cannot function in a non-Japanese GCN without the assistance of additional software, such as FreeLoader.

The game also uses Japanese file-saving protocols when saving to a memory card. Japanese and North American GCN game files cannot be saved on the same memory card.

*****

3) LANGUAGE

*****

This game uses the Japanese language and has little use of English. Written Japanese makes use of three main syllabaries: kanji, hiragana, and katakana. (A syllabary is a writing system where symbols represent syllables.)

Kanji refers to Chinese characters used in written Japanese. School children are taught the 1,945 regular kanji (identified by a 1981 governmental decree) used in "official" communications (there are thousands of other kanji in use).

In children's video games, texts are often written entirely in hiragana and/or katakana.

Hiragana, meaning "ordinary syllabic script," consists of 48 syllables. It is mainly used to write word endings, but is widely used in materials for children. Hiragana symbols appear flowing or "feminine."

Katakana, meaning "part (of kanji) syllabic script," also consists of 48 syllables. It has various uses, including foreign words and emphasis (like bold or italics in English). Katakana symbols appear angular or "masculine."

Romaji refers to the system where written Japanese is represented by the Latin (or English) alphabet.

This guide uses romaji versions of Japanese names used in the game. The corresponding Animal Crossing names are included in brackets. The author apologizes for mistakes in translation.

*****

4) DIALS

*****

Instead of a "qwerty" keyboard, Doubutsu no Mori + uses "dials" for typing.

You select a collection of dials by pushing the "Y" button. They are:

1) Hiragana

- 2) Punctuation
- 3) Katakana
- 4) Latin alphabet (English letters)
- 5) Numbers

In each collection, you flick the analog stick down to obtain more choices.

The hiragana and katakana dials first show five symbols, arranged in a blue semi-circle around the analog stick, clockwise from left to right. As you point the analog stick toward each of the five, you will see five symbols appear in a red semi-circle. To choose a written symbol, you:

- 1) Point the analog stick toward one of the blue symbols
- 2) Press the "A" button
- 3) Point the analog stick toward one of the red symbols
- 4) Press the "A" button
- 5) Press the "X" button to modify the symbol, if desired

The red semi-circles display the symbols in the customary Japanese vowel order of "a," "i," "u," "e," and "o," clockwise from left to right. The blue semi-circles show the "a" sound using different consonants. For example, from the default hiragana position, if you point your analog stick up towards what looks like a backwards "5," you will see the syllables "sa," "shi," "su," "se," and "so" appear in the red semi-circle. The modifications either reduce the size of the symbol (for various purposes) or add diacritical marks (known as dakuten and handakuten) that change the syllable's consonant.

The consonant order from the default position is:

- 1) a (i u e o)
- 2) ka (ki ku ke ko) (": ga gi gu ge go)
- 3) sa (shi su se so) (": za ji zu ze zo)
- 4) ta (chi tsu te to) (": da ji zu de do)
- 5) na (ni nu ne no)
- 6) ha (hi fu he ho) (": ba bi bu be bo) (circle: pa pi pu pe po)
- 7) ma (mi mu me mo)
- 8) ya (yu yo - ~)
- 9) ra (ri ru re ro)
- 10) wa (wo n , .)

The hiragana for "so" and "ri" on the DnM+ dials may be different from what appears in other sources, such as DnM+ e-Reader cards.

In the other collections, make a choice by:

- 1) Pointing the analog stick toward one of the blue symbols
- 2) Pressing the "A" button
- 3) Pressing the "X" button to modify, if desired

Press the "B" button to backspace or delete.

Use the cross pad to move the cursor.

Press right on the cross pad to made a space.

Press down on the cross pad to make the end-of-line/return symbol.

Press the "Start/Pause" button when finished.

*****
5) MOVING

You could move your Doubutsu no Mori (N64 game) player to DnM+! Up until January 10, 2002, for a fee of 630 yen plus postage, you could send your N64 controller pack, with Doubutsu no Mori game data, and a 59-block GCN memory card to Nintendo and get, in return, a Doubutsu no Mori + game file on the memory card with your DnM character "moved" to a new DnM+ village. As a bonus, the new player received Ice Climber. Most of the player's catalog transferred; some of the items possibly lost included the I Love 64 Shirt, the N Logo Shirt, the Dreadful Painting (Edvard Munch's "Scream"), and the Novel Painting (Piet Mondrian's "Composition with Red, Yellow and Blue"). Also, the player's fish and insect inventories transferred.

Similarly, you can move your DnM+ player to DnMe! This page appears to be describing how: <http://www.nintendo.co.jp/ngc/gaej/moving/index.html>. More information is contained in the Doubutsu no Mori e+ FAQ: <http://www.gamefaqs.com/console/gamecube/game/918692.html>.

6) GETTING STARTED

*****
Just like Animal Crossing, if you haven't created a village, the first animal you meet is Totakeke. Here are his menu choices after he asks you if you are ready to go:

- 1) I'm ready to go!
- 2) Before I go . . .
  - ...a. Rumble Settings
    - .....i Rumble: ON
    - .....ii. Rumble: OFF
  - ...b. Sound Settings
    - .....i. Stereo
    - .....ii. Mono
    - .....iii. Headphones
  - ...c. Animal Speak
    - .....i. Animalese
    - .....ii. Bebebese
    - .....iii. Silence
    - .....iv. How does this sound?
      - .....1. That's fine!
      - .....2. Umm, hang on!
  - ...d. Cool with settings?
    - .....i. Yes!
    - .....ii. Not really!

If you have already created a village, one of your villagers appears to ask you if you are ready. Here are the corresponding menu choices:

- 1) Yes!
- 2) Before we go ...
  - ...a. Sound Settings
    - .....i. Sound
      - .....1. Stereo
      - .....2. Mono
      - .....3. Headphones
    - .....ii. Animal Speak
      - .....1. Animalese
      - .....2. Bebebese
      - .....3. Silence
    - .....iii. Happy?
      - .....1. That's fine!
      - .....2. Umm, hang on!
  - ...b. Rumble Settings
    - .....i. Rumble: ON
    - .....ii. Rumble: OFF

- ...b. What's it to ya?
7) Where's your new place?
...a. Don't know yet.
...b. Leave me alone!
8) You have money, right?
...a. Oh, yeah!
...b. Just a little ...

*****

8) TANUKICHI'S TASKS

*****

Just as in Animal Crossing, [Tom Nook] Tanukichi takes a break between tasks in order to finish preparing a package. He asks you to possibly do favors for villagers.

To refresh your memory, here is the task list:

- 1) Change into your uniform
- 2) Plant flowers and trees
- 3) Meet villagers (six in a new village) and [Tortimer] Kotobuki
- 4) Deliver a piece of furniture
- 5) Write and mail a letter (it doesn't matter what you write)
(break)
- 6) Deliver carpeting
- 7) Deliver an Axe to the recipient of the letter
- 8) Write an ad on the [Bulletin Board] Keijiban (again, it doesn't matter what you write)

*****

9) AROUND THE TOWN

*****

Instead of a Wishing Well, Doubutsu no Mori + has the [Shrine] Oyashiro. It has a unique icon on your town map.

Another location with a different map icon is the [Post Office] Yuubin kyoku. Its icon is katakana "te," short for tegami, or letter. (It's also the logo used by Japan POST, the Japanese postal service.) There is no ETM in the [Post Office] Yuubin kyoku.

Several of the locations have signage in Japanese and were redesigned for Animal Crossing.

A couple of the locations around town have different menu options:

At [Tom Nook's] Tanukichi's:

- 1) I'd like to sell
  - 2) See my catalog
  - 3) Turnip prices?
  - 4) Never mind
- (Notice that there are no options for codes.)

At the [Tailor] Shitateya:

- 1) Design a pattern
- ...a. Do you wish to pay 980 bells?
- .....i. Yes
  - .....ii. Never mind
- ...b. Anything else?
- .....i. Design a pattern
  - .....ii. Save a pattern
  - .....iii. Advance menu

- .....1. Download tool
- .....2. Upload design
- .....3. Never mind
- .....iv. Nothing
- 2) Other Things
  - ...a. Save a pattern
  - ...b. Advance menu
    - .....i. Download tool
    - .....ii. Upload design
    - .....iii. Never mind
  - ...c. Never mind
- 3) Any suggestions?
- 4) Nothing . . .

Others are the same as in Animal Crossing:

At your [Gyroid] Haniwa-kun:

- 1) Save
  - ...a. Would you like to save?
    - .....i. That's right!
    - .....ii. Umm, hang on!
- 2) Store an item
- 3) Other Things
  - ...a. About the Door
    - .....i. Post Pattern
    - .....ii. Remove Pattern
    - .....iii. Never mind
  - ...b. Set message
  - ...c. Go Back
  - ...d. Never mind
- 4) Umm, hang on!

At the [Post Office] Yuubin kyoku:

- 1) Mail a letter
- 2) Deposit
- 3) Save a letter
- 4) Never mind

At the [Shrine] Oyashiro:

- 1) How are things?
- 2) Apologize
- 3) What's this?
- 4) Nothing ...

At the [Police Station] Kouban:

- 1) Any goings-on?
- 2) Anything lost?
- 3) What's this?
- 4) Nothing . . .

At the [Museum] Hakubutsukan:

- 1) Donate an item
- 2) What's this?
- 3) Nope, nothing!

The [Town Melody Board] Mero keijiban uses katakana to represent musical notes. Here is the scale from lowest note to highest note:

[G A B C D E F G A B C D E]
so ra shi do re mi fa so ra shi do re mi

*****
10) HOUSE UPGRADES
*****

Your debts to [Tom Nook] Tanukichi are the same as in Animal Crossing:

- 1) 19,800 bells for your starter home (17,400 after tasks)
- 2) 148,000 bells for the first expansion
- 3) 398,000 bells for the second expansion, or
- 4) 49,800 bells for a basement (second choice at [Tom Nook's] Tanukichi's)
- 5) 798,000 bells for a second floor

When [Tom Nook] Tanukichi asks what roof color you want, remember that he offers three colors at a time in the order of red, orange, yellow; light green, green, light blue; blue, purple, pink; black, white, brown.

*****
11) EVENTS
*****

The holidays in Doubutsu no Mori + are mostly different from those in Animal Crossing:

January 1 - [New Year's Day] Shinnen-no-hi or Beliefs Day

Japan's most important holiday, there are three days of ceremonies for eliminating bad fortune and praying for good fortune. From 6am to 11am, see [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro to obtain Osechi, purchase a fortune from [Katrina] Hackemy, and make a wish in front of the [Shrine] Oyashiro. Participating villagers wear the Somber Robe or the Plum Kimono. Receive a New Year's gift from your Mother. [Tom Nook] Tanukichi sells grab bags on January 1, 2, and 3.

January 2 to February 23 - [Igloo Season] Kamakura secchi or Igloos

Something different is cooking inside. Play games to obtain the Crab Stew, Fireplace, Snowy Tree Model, Brazier, Snowboard, Snow Bunny, Igloo Model, and Sleigh.

January 7 - Nanakusa-no-hi or Seven Spring Herbs Day

In Japan on this day, it is customary to eat seven wild herbs to bring longevity and good health. See [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro from 10am to 6pm to receive the Weed Model.

2nd Monday in January - Ichininmae-no-hi or Coming of Age Day

Japan celebrates 20-year-olds. See [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro from 10am to 6pm to get the Tailor Model.

January ? - [Tortimer's Vacation]

On a random day, find [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro to agree to his request. Turn on the light in the [Lighthouse] Toudai between 6pm and 10pm for seven straight days to receive the Lighthouse Model.

The first time you encounter this event, [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on January 15. If you complete the event, the next year [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on January 16. Similarly, if you complete the event the second time, [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on January 17 the following year, and so on. [Tortimer] Kotobuki will stay in town for a week, giving you the opportunity to talk to him and accept his request for help with the [Lighthouse] Toudai while he is on vacation.

February 3 - Mamemaki-no-hi or Bean Throwing Festival

On this day in Japan, soybeans are scattered around to drive out demons and to bring good fortune. See [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro from 10am to 6pm to obtain the Bean Set.

February 11 - [Your Hometown Day] Furusato-no-hi or Home Town Day

This is National Founding Day in Japan, commemorating the crowning of the first emperor in 660 BC. See [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro from 10am to 6pm to obtain a Station Model (one of 15).

February ? - [Tortimer's Vacation]

On a random day, find [Tortimer] Kotobuki at the [Shrine] Oyashiro to agree to his request. Turn on the light in the [Lighthouse] Toudai between 6pm and 10pm for seven straight days to receive Chocolates.

The first time you encounter this event, [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on February 12. If you complete the event, the next year [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on February 13. Similarly, if you complete the event the second time, [Tortimer] Kotobuki will first appear on February 14 the following year, and so on. [Tortimer] Kotobuki will stay in town for a week, giving you the opportunity to talk to him and accept his request for help with the [Lighthouse] Toudai while he is on vacation.

February 14 - Barentain-de-no-tegami or Valentine's Day

In Japan, women give chocolates to men on Valentine's Day. Male players will receive presents attached to letters from female villagers.

12) VILLAGER PERSONALITIES

*****

There are six different personalities in the game:

Males:

- ...A) [Cranky] Ore awake 10:00am to 5:00am
- ...B) [Jock] Oira awake 5:30am to 1:00am
- ...C) [Lazy] Boku awake 8:00am to 10:00pm

Females:

- ...D) [Snooty] Atashi awake 9:00am to 2:30am
- ...E) [Peppy] Atai awake 7:00am to 11:30pm
- ...F) [Normal] Watashi awake 5:00am to 9:00pm

From Nakor:

"They're all different ways of saying I or "me," but each has a different tone.

"Watashi" is the most standard one, thus going to the normal type.

"Atashi" is a feminine variation of Watashi.

"Atai" is to my understanding a really slangy Watashi.

"Boku" is a casual word for I or me that's used primarily between male "pals" or friends.

"Ore" is a sort of self-confident, bragging way of saying I.

"Oira" is a slightly slangy variation of Ore, unless I'm mistaken on this one.

Thus they can be used to differentiate between the different personalities."

13) VILLAGER INTERACTIONS

When speaking to villagers, the initial three options are the same as in Animal Crossing (i.e., Any work?; What's up?; Never mind). Much of the conversation and interactions are also the same.

There are several different "visual emotions" for the animals. A red "X" appears when an animal is initially angry. Curling black smoke clouds, somewhat like those in Legend of Zelda: the Wind Waker, appear when animals are sad. A spinning coil, in the shape of a cone, appears when an animal is confused. Both vertical and horizontal lines with a blue-cloud background can appear.

14) ANIMAL ISLAND & ISLANDERS

Just as in AC, a linked Game Boy Advance (GBA) is necessary for riding with [Kapp'n] Kappi to visit the tropical island. Check out [Kapp'n's] Kappi's "new" sailor melody!

Obtaining the island items is done by the same ways as in AC. There are only eight furniture items in DnM+, however: the Life Ring is not obtained from the island. Also, the following [NES] Famicom games may be obtained from your islander: DK Jr Math, Tennis, and Wario's Woods (also, possibly, Balloon Fight and Donkey Kong).

Here are the 18 islanders, their DnM+ e-Reader card numbers, their favorite fruit, their least favorite fruit, and their requested furniture (The carpeting and wallpaper that automatically appear in their hut are in parentheses.) (The location, in dialog, of the name of the item they are requesting, after positively responding to the islander, is in parentheses.):

23) PASSWORDS

*****

You cannot "say" or "hear" codes at [Tom Nook's] Tanukichi's, so the only way to use passwords is by sending them in letters to villagers.

When sending passwords in letters to villagers, follow these steps:

- 1) Send no more than five passwords each day.
- 2) Each day, send each password to a different villager.
- 3) All text is hiragana.
- 4) End each line with a end-of-line/return symbol.
- 5) Enter "a i ko to ba" on the first line.
- 6) Enter the password on the second and third lines.

Following are passwords, in catalog order, obtained from e-Reader cards and from a Japanese forum (<http://www12.ocn.ne.jp/~animal/>). The author has verified that all these passwords work.

If the password came from a DnM+ character card, the card number and the animal, using their AC name, are identified. If the identified animal is living in your town, you may receive a [NES] Famicom game attached to the reply, regardless of whether you addressed the password to the specific animal.

26) E-READER

*****

Attach the e-Reader by plugging it into your GBA(SP) game cartridge slot. Turn on your GBA(SP). Here is the menu after pressing the "Start" button:

- 1) Read Card
- 2) Communication
  - ...a. GameCube Communication
  - ...b. Game Boy Advance Communication
- 3) Game Start

Select "Read Card" when you wish to scan a DnM+ card.

*****

27) E-READER CARDS

*****

There are 334 DnM+ e-Reader cards. Here is the breakdown by series:

- Series 1: 001-064 (64 cards)
- Series 2: 065-119, B01, M01-M04, P01-P04 (64 cards)
- Series 3: 120-196, B02-B03, M05-M09, P05-P10 (90 cards)
- Series 4: 197-273, B04, G01, M10-M14, P11-P16 (90 cards)
- Promotional: E01-E26 (26 cards)

(Notice that there are no design cards. There are no cards for Ice Climber or Mario Bros.)

Only some of the passwords printed on the cards result in replies with presents. If you send the printed password on cards of animals that are currently in your town (including your islander), you may receive a [NES] Famicom game attached to the reply.

You can obtain two additional passwords per character when you scan the cards in an e-Reader attached to a Game Boy Advance (SP).

28) OBSERVATIONS

*****

When turning on the game, the Nintendo title is in white, compared to red for AC (and blue for DnMe+).

The label on the memory card packaged with the game is predominantly orange and pictures a gyroid.

All DnM+ players have black eyes, as opposed to different colored eyes in AC.

The upper right "orange" house has the Wafuu Wall and the 8 Mat Tatami as defaults.

While in your house, the "Z" button is used to turn on or turn off the lights.

Instead of the Sand Dollar, there is another seashell, called Sakuragai or Carpenters Tellin. It sells for 60 bells. When in your inventory, its icon is small and pink.

Many of the animals' home furnishings were redesigned for AC: Admiral, Alli,

Anicotti, Astrid, Betty, Billy, Biskit, Bitty, Camofrog, Carmen, Carrie, Cheri, Claude, Cleo, Coco, Cyrano, Deena, Derwin, Dizzy, Doc, Dora, Dotty, Freckles, Freya, Gaston, Genji, Gonzo, Goose, Grizzly, Hambo, Hector, Huck, Iggy, Joey, Kabuki, Lily, Limberg, Lucky, Lucky, Murphy, Nate, Nosegay, Otis, Oxford, Ozzie, Paolo, Peaches, Pecan, Peewee, Pippy, Prince, Puddles, Pudge, Punchy, Rasher, Rizzo, Roald, Rollo, Rosie, Sandy, Scoot, Snake, Snooty, Spike, Spork, Sprocket, Static, Stella, Stinky, Sue E., Sven, T-Bone, Tad, Tank, Tutu, Twirp, Tybalt, Valise, Velma, Vesta, Vladimir, Wart Jr., Wolfgang, and Yuka. See this page for images: <http://hayuru.boo.jp/data/heya/migi.htm>

Villagers ignore fish and insects. They are no help with Bagworms, Spiders, Pillbugs, and Mole Crickets.

Just as in AC, you can still have a "perfect" (katakana "sa i ko -") town with absolutely no trees in the Train Station, home, Museum, large pond, Shrine, and ocean acres.

When getting the Golden Axe, the Shrine opens to "aura" music while your new tool floats out to you.

Turnips that get into the "Lost & Found" or are stored in the island bungalow will not spoil. Turnips left on the ground on the island will disappear.

When Blanca visits, she always wears the Flame Shirt no matter what she wore when you met her on the train.

While Gracie disappears after the third person speaks to her, sometimes the car remains in place until the player quits instead of until leaving the acre.

In DnM+, you can get a rainbow at the waterfall no matter how hard it rains the day before.

Don appears instead of Resetti after the fifth time you reset or lose power while playing.

In AC, special "closing music" plays at Tom Nook's store about five minutes before closing time (either 10pm or 11pm). In DnM+, this "closing music" plays after Tanukichi's sales when his store reopens.

The signs in front of villagers' homes indicating who is living there have been redesigned for AC.

The icon of diaries dropped on the ground outside is not the same as that of a sapling. It now looks like a manila mailing envelope.

There is no ink meter when writing letters.

The Nintendo and Futabasha guides have this table of feng shui effects:

- ...1. Red "considerably" increases item luck
- ...2. Yellow "considerably" increases money luck
- ...3. Green increases both money and item luck
- ...4. Orange increases both money and item luck

The DnM+ turnip price mechanism appears to function the same as in AC. Joan's prices vary between 71 and 129. Tom Nook's price can still "spike" at exactly eight times Joan's price on the previous Sunday. Using data from the author's towns, a "spike" price occurs about 41.3% of the time (43 times out of 104 weeks).

31) THANKS

*****

I have been playing this game since February 1, 2005. I would not have enjoyed the adventure and challenge so much if not for inspiration from NeoMario at the GameFAQs Doubutsu no Mori e-Plus Message Board.

Thank you to NeoMario and others who have contributed to our collective knowledge about DnM+, without whom this document would not be complete.
