1=====Description of Tyrant=====1

The tyrant is a 7ft (approx) Craeture created by umbrella. It was the result of tests using the t-virus. It's shape is the same as a humans with a large claw-like left hand. Its heart is situated on the outside of its body on the right of its chest. (this has nothing to do with defeating it) Its face is the shape of a humans with its teeth constantly showing making an expression of pain.

2=====How to defeat it=====2

The tyrant appears twice during the game.

****1st time****

It will appear in the room at tyhe bottom of the emergency lift after Rebbeca sets off the self-destruct mechanism.

It is easy to defeat for now as you only need to fire 5-6 shots from your magnum to floor it (the magnum is the most powerful weapon, although the assault shotgun and shotgun will be able to floor it with a few more shots.) Be careful not to get hit by it as you are firing. Appearing as if it is dead, you can carry on with your quest.

****2nd time****

This time it appears after setting of the rockets on the helipad. Jill and Rebecca (if you saved them will come from the lift)

To kill it forever this time, you must start with pumping it with rounds from your magnum or any other powerful weapon you have while dodging its attacks. 10-15 shots from the magnum is enough to set off a cut-scene in which brad throws down a rocket launcher into the center of the helipad. It is loaded with 4 rockets although only one is needed to kill the Tyrant. Stand away from it and raise the rocket launcher and aim as close as you can to the tyrant. If you aimed it close enough to hime you will see another cut-scene which follows the rocket as it hits the Tyrant and explodes inside it.

3=====Attacks=====3

The Tyrant has 3 different attacks which I noticed.

*1*

If you stand a few meters away, it may appear as if it is not going to attack, but then turns arond and lunges at you with its claw. This is difficult to avoid but as long as you keep on your toes you should have no worries.

*2*

The second attack is a small, slow lift of its claw. This attack is incredibly easy to avoid. The attack occurs when you stand close to the front of him(bearing in mind you probably will hardly ever be in that area). Just run away from him as he tries to hit you.

*3*

The last one that I saw is where the Tyrant picks you up and starts to throttle you in his oustrched hand. If he does grab you, you will either autmatically stab him with a dagger if you have one) or should press L to stick one into him making him put you down. This attack happens when you are standing near to the frony of him. (The flash grenade also can be used as a defensive weapon when he picks you up but it does not explode, it acts a bit like the dagger.

4=====FAQ's=====4

Q. Is there anything that I can do to save wesker after he has been skewered by the tyrant in the laboratory room?

A. No

Q. How many rounds of magnum bullets do I need to fight the Tyrant with?

A. you should have saved up at least 3 magnum clips during your adventure. Have all of them in your inventory and loaded your gun ready to fight it. Try to get all of your shots on target and you shouldn't have any problems.

Q. Where is the last save point before I fight the Tyrant?

A. The last one is the typewriter which you first see when you enter the laboratory.

Q. How many ink ribbons are in the laboratory?

A. 3
