~~~~~{Updates}~~~~~

Chapter. I

3-16-01 - It starts! Started my first faq for Madden '01!

3-17-01 - Finished all the Modes of Play. Started tracking down all of my Madden Cards in my Madden '01 version (it took me hours!)

3-18-01 - I completed my first faq! hurray! Now I'm going to e-mail GameFAQS.com, and Cheatcc.com and see if they'll put this on there site! Coping and pasting this whole FAQ took a while though.

3-25-01 - Updated Madden Cards, Copyright, In The End, and Records. I'll update this FAQ once a week.

4-21-01 - No Updated in a month and this could be the last update I'll make. I'm creating a website:VoltageGaming.vze.com, and working on a Toonstruck FAQ. I've recieved lots of records lately submitted so don't bother submitting anymore.

~~~~~{Game Info}~~~~~

Chapter. II

A.) Features:

Game: Madden 2001
System: PSX, PS2, and N64. Faq for N64 version
Devoloped and Published by: EA Sports
Players: One-Four
ESRB: E = Everyone
Street Price : $50 N64 Version as of Mar.16

B.) Description: Madden 2001 is the latest installment of the Madden Football series the longest series in the history of video game sports. Whats new from the last versions? a lot! A all new Two-Minute Drill mode, All new Read-N-React Defense, A Custom League mode, and my personal fav. Madden Cards! Of course all the latest modes are back: Exhibition, Season, Tournament, Franchise, and Fantasy Draft!

~~~~~{Modes of Play}~~~~~

Chapter. III

A.) Exhibition: Every football games got 'em. Exhibition is kind of like preseason in the NFL. You can pick any team (past or present) and play against any team you want. You can set stadium, quarter length, etc. This is also the perfect way to recieve a lot of Madden cards. Pick a All-Madden team, turn the game into All-Madden mode in diffuclity, and then play against a easy team (The Bengals, or a team like the Bears) when finished, you should have at least over 150 Madden Cards!

B.)Season: Test your team's endurance through a 16-game NFL season and battle it out in a quest of a Super Bowl champion.

C.)Franchise: Manage your own NFL franchise for up to 30 seasons. You are responsible for all the aspects of the franchise, on the field and behind.

If you win, you make big bucks. Lose and you'll be lucky to get a job on another team.

D.)Custom League: Set up your own custom league of four to eight teams and watch them battle for the championship. In terms of setup, Custom League is similar to a Season.

E.)Playoffs: Don't want to take the time for a full season? go to Playoffs and it'll put you right in the action.

F.)Practice: Get your plays picture perfect or master a new playbook.

G.)2 Minute Drill: It's down to the wire. In 2 Minute Drill mode you have two minutes to prove you have what it takes to finish the game on top. Earn points for big plays. Up to 10 players can participate. Think you have a real high score? go to Records and look at mine or submit your own score.

H.)Tournament: Compete in a single or double elimination tournament with playoff-like pressure.

I.)Situation: It's late in the fourth quarter and you're trailing by four. Put yourself in the most pressure-filled position and see if you can pull off the winning score to keep your playoff hopes alive.

J.)NFL Record Book: The record book has actual records in the NFL for Individual, Team, and Coaching skills.

K.)User Profiles: Create coaches, run through seasons, collect Madden Cards, and view your VS. User Records. It's all starts here!

L.)Play Editor: Create up to six offensive and six defensive plays for your playbook. You control where players go. You can even use your own play in Season and head-to-head mode!

M.)Settings: Customize AL, Gameplay, Sound Options, Penalty Settings, and Controller CFG. here

N.)Creating Players: You can also create Players too. Here is a tip: your player can have unlimited stat rankings. Fill them up, put them in a position, play him a lot, and your it'll make your team better. Also, good for those hard tasks in Madden cards like 80 + run yards, or throw for 300+ yards.

O.)Madden Cards: My Personal favorite feature in Madden 2001, Madden Cards. When you complete a task (shown below) you'll get a certian amount of tokens to buy booster packs. These packs have cards in them that unlock Historic Players, Teams, Staduims, and cheats! you might also recieve a card from your favorite active football player 'Tiki!'

Challenge Status:

~~~~~{Level 1}~~~~~

Ranking System :            These are how many tokens you recieve for passing a task in level one. When you complete a task (when Madden cards are activated) you win tokens too buy Madden Cards. ~~~~~{Worlds Greatest}~~~~~

Chapter IV

A.)Top Five Fantasy Teams:

1.) Suger Buzz: This cerel team is my favorite in the whole game. EA Sports did a nice job with the staduims detail and the players on the team. What is the players name? Vitiam C, Mineral, Milk, all sorts of funny names.

2.) All Madden Millenium Team: Of course this teams better then Suger Buzz (it does come close though) but once unlocked you've basically done everything the game has and it doesn't become to useful. Still, these are the greatest players who have played the sport in this team, it's a team you'll want to see.

3.) EA Sports: The developers have there own team: EA Sports and it's ranked one of the best in the game.

4.) Any All-Madden Team: All of the All-Madden teams are pretty close in stats. John Madden picked these himselve has the greatest teams for the year.

5.) Madden Super Bowl Team: John Maddens favorite players who went to the Super Bowl.

B.)Top Five Real Teams:

NOTE: I don't mean to make people mad that they're some good teams I'm not listing

1.) Jacksonville Jaguars: I don't like 'em. But they're good. They have the best overall stats has a real team in the game.

2.) New York Giants: New York Giants are better then any other football and are 2nd best in the game (god only knows why some skills are low)

3.) ST. Louis Rams: They won the Super Bowl in 2000 so of course they're good in the game.

4.) Arizona Cardinals: This is a surprize because they er... suck in real life. When your the Giants like season I've player there always undefeated half way through the season. They also seem faster then listed.

5.) Tennesse Titens: Same reason for the RAMS. They made it to the super bowl in 2000.

Falling Away from the list:

Vikings: HAHA! giants kicked your er... butts 42-0!

Ravens: Sure, so they won last years Super Bowl (luck) they were horrible the year EA Sports created the game

Cowboys: They we're horrible last year but EA Sport bumped up Troy

Aikmans stats so much that him and Emit Smith both create a good team.

C.)Top Five Plays:

1.) Pro Set - HB Sweep - Easily picks up a 10 + yard run. When on left side of field use right HB Sweep and when on right side of field use left HB Sweep

2.) Shotgun - Hail Mary - Goin' Deep! this pass 60% of the time gives you a 30 yard catch. Only thing bad about this play is interceptions happen most on it, and most of the time you can't run when the ball is caught

3.) Pro Set - HB Deep - Flings a deep pass to the Halfback

4.) IForm - HB Sweep - This gives you 4-5 yards 95% of the time!

5.) Special Teams - Fake Field Goal (Pass) - This is a easy way to pick up 8 yards on Fourth down. You'll find a reciever on the right side of the screen open and throw a pass to him and 85% he'll catch it and have open running room.

~~~~~{Records}~~~~~

Chapter V

A.) Intro - Think you can beat me? I don't think so! here is my records for Madden '01 for the N64.

B.)VS Users - This is my stats agianst other real players:

212 Wins

9 loses

I'm only in 7th grade and this record is real. I've played 221 games and most of them weren't agianst easy players. NOTE: This also includes the Tournament I was in (see below)

C.) Tournament - I was in a Madden 2001 tournament a while back. It was in my hometown and I got to be in it (I was the youngest at 13, the second youngest was 15) 64 players we're in it. The tournament was like something in College Basketball. There was 152 people who tried out to be in the tournament only 64 made it in. I was ranked 12 in my division (around the 48th best player ranked) here is what happened:

~~~~~{Game 1}~~~~~

5.) 49ers : Mark O'Brien                      Final Score - 26

12.) Giants : Me, Steven Dunbar              Final Score - 35

My first game was probably the hardest of all the games. I played well though and Ron Dayne ran for 178 yards, Collins throw 4 TDS, and around 250 yards

~~~~~{Game 2}~~~~~

4.) Jets : Shawn Pruintt Final Score - 7

12.) Giants : Steven Dunbar Final Score - 43

I kicked some serious butt that game! everybody there was kinda shocked that I was still in this thing

~~~~~{Game 3}~~~~~

12.) Giants : Steven Dunbar                Final Score - 17

1.) Vikings : Scott Thompson                Final Score - 7

Remix of the Giants winning!

~~~~~{Game 4}~~~~~

12.) Giants : Steven Dunbar Final Score - 20

3.) Packers: David Whisinhunt Final Score - 6

Only four teams left and I'm still alive!

~~~~~{Game 5 'Final Four'}~~~~~

12.) Giants : Steven Dunbar                Final Score - 0

1.) Jacksonville : Michael Leen            Final Score - 35

I got so far but then poof lose. Just one game away from the finals and the winner recieved a Playstation 2 Game system. I was mad, he was good. Real Good. Anyway, Michael Leen ended up winning the 'Super Bowl' by the final score of 21-8

~~~~~{Skills}~~~~~

Chapter VI

A.) Cheating - In all sport games you can cheat, easily pull of a win, but what fun is that? when you lose, you lose. In season, don't keep playing the same game over and over and over. I was 3-6 in Season mode and finished off the year making the playoffs at 9-7 (my 1st time in All-Madden difficulty) Also, keep the season in the same difficulty mode. Don't start off the game in All-Madden and then lose, then don't change the difficulty too Rookie. What fun is that? you play a game and you should want as realistic series football as possible and with Madden '01 you can do that. A thing I liked about it is you find your own cheats with Madden cards, thats funner then going to a cheat website and coping it.

B.) Skills - There isn't much Skills you really need to know, press the Z button when somebodies coming at you in a Punt Return and you'll make a move right by them. It's a easy way to score a touchdown. Try to mix up your plays, and a sweep to the right side when your at the left side of the field will give you over 10 yards of running (with the New York Giants it does)
