This FAQ is a specialised DIGIMON WORLD digimon card FAQ. this guide will cover a variety of things, such as how to get digimon cards, to what items are available in return for them. If you are looking for a "how do I get digimon X or item Y" guide you're in the wrong place. period.

For the latest version of my guide email me at the adress above with the subject title "DIGICARD". Other Emails from untrusted people will automatically be spamfied, so be warned. Also, I am willing to answer questions about Digimon world not covered in this guide, but dont expect a reply if it's someting not covered in this guide. Also, spammers will automatically get my x100 annoying spamback message, so send me spam at your own peril.

Note: to skip to a chapter you want, press ctrl+F. a box will pop up. then just paste the section number/name in the box and hit enter!

| I. What are Digimon Cards? |

Even from very early in the game, certain digimon in the game will make references to digimon cards. Digimon cards are as they sound- cards of the different digimon found in the game. They are consistant of: 1. the digimon's image and 2. the name in japanese. Digimon cards are split up into five rarity quotas- filth-common, common, uncommon, rare, Ultimate-rare. depending on the rarity of the card, Shogungekomon will give you more or less merit points for it, but I will come to that later. Anyway there are exactly 64 (sixty-four) cards in total- four filth, ten commons, twenty five uncommons, twenty rares, and five ultimate rares. Despite thier bieng more commons and uncommons than filth, you will most likely get 60% of your cards as filth cards.

| II. Where do I find them? |

You can get digimon cards from a machine in the file city item shop, you spend 100 bits on one card, this card is totally random, but the cards you get are predetermined once you enter the shop, so if you dont like the cards you get, reset, then exit end re-enter the shop to try again. To get the shop in file city, first find Betamon in the mangrove swamp section of the tropical jungle. to get here, cross the digimon bridge (you'll need coelamon for this) and keep heading right across the beach. he'll be on the platform above the J. Mojyamon. Just talk to him to recruit him. Betamon will open a small stall. next you'll need to get Patamon. To get him, you'll need to have gotten meramon. go through the path following the foot of mt. panorama until you come to the section with the azuramons (the purple-flowered palmons) and the toilet, and head to the exit at the top-left of the screen. you should now be in the gear savanna. from here, keep going up past the two screens that follow and on the third screen, patamon will be there. defeat him the three times that he asks to battle to recruit him. Once you've done that patamon will open the so called "tool shop". this sells items and such and contains the card machine, wich will be unlocked after you get about 25 prosperity points.

III.	What uses	do they hav	re?

Digimon cards only really have one use and that is to trade them away to the digimon in game. Usually you'll get really rare/expensive items, so its a good idea to look into them. Apart from that, they are fun to collect, cool to look at and are a perfect compliment to your digivolution tree as it shows no images.

IV. Digimon Card List	-

Below is my lengthy and very useful card list. the first column is the card number, as in the game. Next is the digimon it represents, third is its Merit point value, which Ill elaborate on later on in the guide, forth is the money its woth in bits if you sell it, and lastly, they are separated in rarity, going down from ultimate rare. NOTE: two cards that I cannot find are missing. If you know what these are and how to get them, please email me.

V. Who is Shogungekomon?

Early on in the game, you will come across the gear savanna. If you continue past the point where patamon was, heading right, you will find the geko swamp. if you travel through the first screen, doging the sandyanmamons, the on the second screen, there may be a otamamon, which, after it calling you names, you can battle and defeat. If you do so, then two gekomon will take you to the king of gekomon, shogungekomon. at that point, he tells you about cherrymon and the misty trees area. However, if you talk to the gekomon on his right later on in the game, he will tell you that shogungekomon collects digimon cards! If you talk to him then, you will be able to trade your cards for special "merit" points which you'll be able to redeem for prizes, explained in the sections below.

V.b. Merit point maths

Ok, so you want 800 merit points? how will that translate into bits? Well one card can be worth from 1--100 merit points, cant it? Using this we can predict that..

|1 filth card = 1 merit point = 100 bits
|800 filth cards = 800 merit points = 80,000 bits|
-----
|1 \text{ common card}| = 5 \text{ merit points}| = 100 \text{ bits}
|160 common card = 800 merit points = 16,000 bit |
|1 uncommon card = 10 merit points = 100 bits
|80 uncommon card= 800 merit points = 8,000 bits |
|1 rare card
           = 30 merit points = 100 bits |
|30 rare cards = 900 merit points = 3000 bits |
|1 u-rare card = 100 merit points = 100 bits |
|8 u-rare cards = 800 merit points = 800 bits

so basically, filth cards are worth 100 bits a merit point, commons are worth 20 bits a merit point, uncommons are worth 10 bits a merit point, rares are worth 3.3 bits a merit point and ultimate rares are worth a fair exchange of 1 bit a merit point.

| VI. Shogungekomon's Trade List |

Here is a list of the items you can get from shogungekomon:

_____
              | Merit Points
                                 What it does
  -----
|HP Chip
              | 800 Merit Points | increases hp by 500
              | 800 Merit Points | increases mp by 500

 		VII. Digivolution items?

Yes, thats right, shogungekomon trades you, amazingly, digivolution items! Digivolution items can automatically digivolve your digimon into new ones without the nessesary training requirements. there are 48 digivolution items and shogungekomon can trade you four of these for digivolving to water champions. Below is a table of the items and the digimon you get from them:

_____
| item name | merit value | digivolves to.. | only works with |
____
|Hard Scale | 500 Mpts |
              Coelamon
                    | rookie digimon |
|Water Bottle| 500 Mpts | Seadramon
                     | rookie digimon |
| Ice Crystal | 500 Mpts | Frijimon
                    | rookie digimon |
______
|Red shell | 500 Mpts | Shellmon | rookie digimon |
            VII. Amazing rod and Seadramon
______

NOTE: BEFORE BUYING THE AMAZING ROD, MAKE SURE YOU HAVE THE OLD ROD FROM TRASH MOUNTAIN!!

The amazing rod is an item that you can buy from shogungekomon for 300 merit points— thats about 10 rare cards. like the old rod, you can use it to fish for fish in dragon—eye lake. unlike the lod rod, you can use it to catch rarer fish than before. Fish have 2 uses: 1. as food, and 2. as bait. In order to fish for rarer fish, you must use more common ones, like black trout, to catch them. You need the amzing rod to catch Seadramon.

Seadramon, however only needs a meat or another common item to catch. to catch Seadramon, you must first have defated warmonzaemon, then have talked to the tankmon on the left in toytown- he will mention seadramon. Then you need to recruit angemon. who will also tell you of seadramon. finally, you need to have recruited shellmon, who will open the "shell newspaper". Get a newspaper and read it. it will talk about the guardian on the lake- seadramon. He will then start to appear at dragon-eye lake. Taking the final steps to catching seadramon, go to the area of dragon eye lake on the left of the area of native forest with the ogremon and fallen trees. Then look to the top right of the screen where no fish are. you should see a huge fish shadow, seadramon. Use your meat to catch the Seadramon.

Once captured, you will be given three options-

- 1. lets be friends
- 2. teach me a move

3. give me an item
if you choose 1, seadramon will be able to ferry you to and fro to beetle land. if you choose 2 or 3, you can still get 1 by re capturing seadramon. 2 makes seadramon teach you a water move you dont know 3 gives you the water bottle, seadramon's digivolution item.
VIII. Chips!
Chips are digimon's rare candies. they up the stats of your digimon by 500 or 50 each. that equates to five goes on a training equiptment.they are especially useful if you save them up. In the beggining, you wont be able to get an ultimate easily. If you go along with a strong champion, and save your chips, you can easily get an ultimate. the problem with the game is that it kills your digimon before it is strong enought to digivolve into an ultimate. only when you can get a good amount of chips, or a digivolution item or two can you realitically get a good ultimate.  anyway, Chips are dropped by the bosses throughout the game, and so are hard to come by. Shogungekomon comes to the rescue by offering a chip at 800 merit points each. an invaluable asset, dont you think?
IX. Other Digimon in the game
