Here I am again, people. Today I bring you an ending list for the PlayStation version of Star Gladiator. Now, being that this document contains endings from a game, it goes without saying that we have here some SPOILUS MAXIMUS. That's right, if you don't want to see the endings from this game, hit your 'back' button now. Go on. It's not too late.

Oh yes, the preceding lengthy segment was meant to push the 'normal' endings off the bottom of the screen. They will not be visible if you haven't scrolled down yet and if your resolution is set at 1024x768 or less. And that's even if you're viewing this in Notepad and you have it maximized.

Now then, are you ready?

False ending - Didn't reach Ghost Bilstein

We narrowly escaped, as the Fourth Empire fortress crumbled to the ground.
Finally, peace has been restored and the Earth is safe.
But there is one thing that still bothers us.
Despite a lengthy search conducted by the United Forces, Bilstein's body has not been found...

Bad ending - Lose to Ghost Bilstein

When we came to, we found ourselves still on the Fourth Empire fortress.
Bilstein's body was still lying at our feet...
W...what had just happened?
Who did we just fight against? Is Bilstein still alive?
Or was it just a dream?...

Normal endings

JUNE
-----

After defeating Bilstein, June returns home to visit the picture of her deceased parents. "I have finally avenged you. For so many years, all I felt was vengeance and now I feel... nothing. Finally you can rest in peace... Since I have nothing left, I will join you soon." With that, June takes a bottle of drugs off her desk and raises it to her mouth.

Suddenly, Hayato slams open her front door... "Don't do it June! Don't leave us like your mom left you. Saturn, Gamof, and I need you! Don't you see that you've got a new family now?" As his words slowly warm her frozen heart she says, "W... what are you talking about Hayato?! This is just cough medicine."

With that, June runs into the arms of Hayato...

A few years later... Back on his home planet of De Rosa, Gamof has purchased the woodlands with his reward money. He's decided to go back to his peaceful life of being a lumberman. But to ensure that the woodlands would never be corrupted again, Gamof formed and is the leader of an organization against drugs.

One day, after coming home from a hard day's work, Gamof's family greets him. "Tell me again brother. Tell me the story of the Star Gladiator." Pressed by his younger brothers, Gamof begins to tell his favorite story...

-----

One month later, Hayato returned to the orphanage only to find the director closing its doors. While looking at the rolls of money inside Hayato's hands, her emotions were torn between love and hate. As Hayato realized this, he smiled and said, "don't be mad! I promise to reform myself from now on."

So filled with her mixed emotions, all the director could say was,

"You're going to give me a heart attack!"

Embarrassed by this Hayato quickly replied,

"But if you die...I'll never change!"

SATURN

-----

Back at the United Force base, the General thanks Saturn for a job well done. Saturn looks at the General, smiles, and says,

"This whole Fourth Empire thing wasn't a part of my mission. Since you used me, I believe that it is in my planet's best interest not to share any information between our two worlds."

With the General speechless, Saturn leans forward and whispers into his ear,

"However, I do believe that we can work something out..."

A few days later at the Pompedo center in Paris...

Saturn is entertaining people on the streets, surrounded by a crowd of people.

"I am a lean and mean Super Hero machine..."

-----

"I can't win! If I free my wife and daughter, I'll have to destroy the human race to do it. But I can't live without them..." And so... Gerelt surrendered himself to Earth's United Forces. Two months later, he received judgement on the crimes he committed... Ready to accept the death penalty, Gerelt listened to the judge. "The accused is sentenced to five years in prison." Astonished by the verdict, Gerelt looks up and sees his family. Through the help of his adoring fans, Gerelt's family was rescued from prison and the truth about how Bilstein blackmailed him was revealed... Overjoyed with happiness, Gerelt runs toward his family, hugs them with all the passion in his heart and cries, "Thank God for your mercy. Thank God!"

-----

Now, at the end, Zelkin finally understands that not all of the Earth's people are cruel and brutal. "I have made a horrible mistake. Even my defeating Bilstein cannot make up for wronging the humans so terribly..." Zelkin tries to give himself up to Hayato and the other Earth warriors, but they will not accept his surrender. "Zelkin, now that we've fought you, we know you are not the enemy. Go home. Maybe this will bring peace to our two peoples." Hayato's companions agree with his kind decree. Zelkin politely expresses his gratitude and takes a spaceship from Zeta back to his home planet, Clonedyke. "So this is what they mean by 'Forgive.' I am only now beginning to understand. We have much to learn from our human brethren."

RIMGAL
-----

"this is the last thing a father can do for his daughter...Ahh,it's slipping away...I must control...
Aiiieee!"

Rimgal has entered the final stage of his transformation.
He can't control the savage dinosaur nature that lurks in his mind...

The next time his inner beast awakens, he will never be able to regain true control over his actions.
This must never be allowed to occur.

Rimgal knows what must happen next.

He looks at June and his companions slowly.

"Please take care of my daughter. I love her..."

And with those words Rimgal leaped from the fortress, plummeting to the ground below.

VECTOR
-----

"Exterminate all humans..."

This was the mission assigned to the unfeeling machine,Vector.

And now,he has achieved the ultimate: "Mission complete" Whispering in a small voice,
Vector ceases all operation,
as if he has fallen asleep...
But if any foolish human sets foot on this planet again,he'll wake up and crush them with his robotic might.

It's as if Vector is the guardian of a god's sanctuary.
As he sleeps quietly,small birds fly around cheerfully, unmindful of the powerful behemoth who lies incapacitated in their midst.

----

"Sorry fools, but I'm bored of messing around with this Fourth Empire game. No challenge! Why did I even waste my time?"

Conquering Earth meant nothing to Gore.

He just wanted to play with his favorite new toy-- the human race.

"Well, how can I amuse myself now? Can I play a new game with them? Oh, maybe I should burn them!"

Where is Gore's insane desire leading him?

Only one thing is certain. When next he stands on the Earth's ground, humans will face the real demon.

-----

-----

"Oh well. The fake cannot defeat the real. What a waste of space that thing was!"

Bilstein has defeated a clone of himself.

The clone didn't stand a chance.

"And now, this should be enough to destroy the rest of the wimps on Earth!"

With those words, Bilstein stretches his hand toward the Earth and clenches his fist.

Is this the true Bilstein, ready to end the world?

Or is this just another clone of the real Bilstein?

We are not in a position to know that...

On a final note, if you are wondering why Kappah and Blood are missing from this list, well...they have no endings. Beating the game with either of them takes you straight to the credits. Don't you hate it when that happens? I know I do.

Star Gladiator and all therein is ♪ Capcom.
