Star Ocean 2 - The Second Story
Voice Collection List (version 0.99)

- The Voice Collection does not have its own save file, but instead pulls all of the flags from the game save files. If you delete a save file, you lose all the voice clips that were exclusively obtained in that save file.
- An optimized way of getting as many voices as possible would involve using the following four parties.
 - a. [R] Precis, Opera, Ernest, Dias, Chisato, Celine
 - b. [C] Bowman, Opera, Ernest, Leon, Chisato, Noel
 - c. [R] Bowman, Ashton, Dias, Chisato, Celine, Noel
 - d. [C] Precis, Ashton, Leon, Chisato, Celine, Noel
- Unfortunately, the game doesn't provide a figure for how many clips you've obtained, and checking your collection is rather tedious, as you can only browse them in order, one by one. Getting from the beginning to the end takes 43 seconds.
- You can listen to an unobtained voice if there's an obtained voice adjacent to it. Just move the cursor immediately after hitting O.
- * means that the clip is exceedingly rare.
- The start of battle clips are scaled based on how the enemy's average level compares to your active party's average level (A for very low, L for very high). The end of battle clips are scaled in a similar way (A for a really easy battle, I~ for a really tough battle), but they don't necessarily correspond with the start of battle clips (if you take out a higher level enemy quickly and easily, you'll still get easy battle clips).
- There are 8 clips that are beta leftovers and thus unobtainable. These are: 489, 774, 787, 797, 1087, 1097, 1103, 1117.
- The clips that were bugged and unobtainable in the Japanese version were all fixed for the western releases. These include, but may not be limited to: 201, 310, 1225, 1227, 1228, 1254, 1255, 1270, 1274.
- Rena's Tractor Beam clip is not part of the collection.
- Once you've gotten enough voices to unlock the extra difficulty levels (50%), you'll see a message that says "Please back to the title. And choose "New Game.""
- With 75% voices, you unlock the sound test.
