Ryu has an easy attack to counter. Just set up your Crash Gems in the order shown above. You can eliminate a whole column this way.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Hado-Ken
30+ Gems - Shinku-Hado-Ken

Chun Li - YYRRGG

Chun Li's Counter Gems form Super Gems when they transform.
Just match up the colors and you'll drop about ten gems on her side.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Lightning Kick
30+ Gems - Kiko-sho

Ken - YYYYYY
 GGGGGG
 BBBBBB

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Shoryu-ken
30+ Gems - Shoryu-reppa

Ken's Crash Gems are arranged in rows. Have a Red Gem sitting on the bottom when Ken attacks.

Sakura - GBBBBY

To counter Sakura's Counter Gem attack, place a Green Crash Gem on the left side, or have a Yellow Crash Gem on the right side.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Hado-Ken
30+ Gems - Shinkuu-Hado-Ken

Donovan - BBGGG
BBGGG
RYRYRY

Donovan's attack pattern is strange, because there are two different parts. There's the red-and-yellow section on the bottom, and the blue-green block on top. You'll have a better chance trying to smash the blue or green Super Gems that form.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Blade Attack
30+ Gems - Spirit Crusher

Morrigan - YBGGBY
YBGGBY
BYRRYB

Morrigan's is strange, too. Try going for the red block on the bottom or the green block on top for a big attack.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Shadow Blade
30+ Gems - Super Shadow Blade

Hsien-Ko- GGRRYY
EGRRY
BBGRR

Hsien-Ko's Counter gems are interlinked diagonally. One Crash Gem can get rid of the entire color.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Ground Knives

30+ Gems - Heavy Metal (?)

Felicia - GBBRRY
 GBBRRY
 GRRBBY

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Cat Scratch
30+ Gems - Cat Scratch Fury

For Felicia, have a Red or Blue Crash Gem or two handy. If she gets you with a really hard attack, green or yellow on either side works well, too.

Akuma - RYBRGY
 YBGRYB
 BGRYBG
 GRYBGR

 VVVVVV

Yeah. Right. Hit hard, hit fast, and hit often, or else you'll be buried in Counter Gems, because there's no way you can counter this attack.

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Shadow Fireball
30+ Gems - Shungokusutsu

Devilot - YRGBYR
 BYRGBY
 GBYRGB
 RGBYRG

Attacks:

12-29 Gems - Battle Axe
30+ Gems - Laser Blast

Like Akuma's, only in reverse. Same rules apply.

Dan - RRRRRR

Dan is ridiculously easy to counter, so trying to beat the game with him will be a pain. Anybody who has a Red Crash gem ready when Dan makes a big move can blow this guy out of the water.

<<<Play Modes>>>

Arcade

- Face off against the eight original characters in one-round

battles. After that is done, you fight Akuma. The object of the game is to fill your opponent's side with Gems by combining Normal and Crash Gems to create Counter Gems.

Versus

- Play against a friend. All of the available characters can be selected.

Street Puzzle

- Defeat the given characters to win prizes (see Goodies section).

Original (PC version)

- In this mode, you can set the time on the Counter gems, and the strength of the attack gems.

<<<Playing the Game>>>

- Controls

Use the Left or Right buttons to move the Attack Gem.

Hold Down to drop the Attack Gem quickly.

The Left Turn and Right Turn buttons rotate the Attack Gem.

(It rotates around the flashing gem).

Start pauses the game.

- Attack Gems

There are three types of Attack Gems: Normal, Crash, and Super.

The Normal gems are ordinary gems that come in red, green, blue, and yellow.

The Crash Gems look like glowing orbs. Sit them next to a Normal gem of matching color to eliminate them. When you eliminate your gems, you send Counter Gems to your opponent's side.

The Super Gem looks like a diamond. They appear after you've dropped 50 or so Attack Gems. When you drop them on a Gem, it eliminates all other Gems of that color.

- Counter Gems

Counter Gems have numbers on them that indicate how many turns left until they change to Normal Gems. Each time you drop an Attack Gem, the number on the Counter Gem decreases by one. When the number reaches zero, the Counter Gem becomes a Normal Gem, and you can eliminate it normally.

Counter Gems can also be eliminated when a Normal or Crash Gem is cleared next to it, regardless of color.

- Attacking Your Opponent

By lining up Normal and Crash Gems, you can attack your opponent. You can even line up multiple gems of the same color next to each other for greater attacking power.

You can also form Power Gems by lining up four or more Normal Gems in a square. This has more than twice the attack power than if you destroy them separately. You can make the Power Gem as big as you want, and when the right color Crash Gem hits - BOOM! Your opponent is buried in Counter Gems.

- Chain Reactions

Sometimes, you can line up your Gems in such a way that they cause a chain reaction. For instance, you can stack a green Power Gem on a yellow Power Gem, and drop a Yellow/Green Crash Gem on it to cause a chain reaction. Some of the more complicated maneuvers take time and planning, but more often than not, a chain reaction may be formed by accident.

- Losing a Round

You lose when your Gems get stacked all the way to the top of the playing field (you know how that works).

<<<Goodies in Street Puzzle Mode>>>

Master Arcade Mode - In Master Arcade mode, the intelligence of all opponents is tuned up to maximum, and you can't reduce the damage done by a Counter Gem. You have to beat Ryu as himself to unlock this mode.

Hidden Code for Akuma - Beat Akuma as Ryu to play as the boss, Akuma. Then, at either the Arcade, Versus, or Master Arcade screens, hold Start and press Left Turn 1.

Hidden Code for Devilot - Beat Devilot as Morrigan to play as one of the hidden characters, Devilot. Then, at either the Arcade, Versus, or Master Arcade screens, hold Select and press Left Turn 1.

Hidden Code for Dan - Beat Dan as Donovan to play as the other hidden character, Dan. Then, at either the Arcade, Versus, or Master Arcade screens, hold Select and Start and press Left Turn 1.
