For those of you who are following the message board, you should get to know that somebody on the web using part of the contents of the version 1.0 of this FAQ without acquiring permission from myself.

The person claimed that he/she has written the list since May 2002 but instead using the same wordings "There are 24 RITUALs in total so let's get on with it :)", "Fusion: [Not discover yet!]" and made the same spelling mistake which pointed out to me by Joseph Luciany, "014 - Beetle Steer".

The person still claims that he/she is the originator and refuse to admit that his/her contents are from the version 1.0 of this FAQ.

I am glad that people use this FAQ a lot and would like to have the information on their website... I welcome your request and I never turned down a single request so far so please do this the proper way. It won't cost you a single cent by asking for permission.

I'm done with my whinning... so let's get on with it :)

Introduction to RITUAL

Ritual is the process to summon a high level Monster Card with the sacrifice of three (3) lower level Monster Cards. You would need a Ritual Card and three (3) other specific cards for the ritual to be executed.

To perform a ritual, you must first have the three (3) sacrifices on your playing field then play the Ritual card. On a successful summon, the three (3) sacrifices will be burned and the summoned card appears on your playing field.

Personally, Ritual is useless to me but it is one of the way to get those rare cards to appear in your card library. Anyway, let's move on with the RITUAL Guide. (There are some Ritual I have not tested because I do not have all the required sacrifice).

I have added the "Acquire from" column in this version and you can see that most of the Ritual Cards can be won from Yami Bakura (I only reach Pegasus on my 100-DUEL Statistics). I will revise this FAQ as I advanced further.

I have also added the Password and Starchip Cost of redeemable Ritual Cards for easy acquisition.
