I. Introduction

*****

Please appreciate the time and effort that we have put into making this Guide. We hope the way it is setup will make it easier to use as well as be helpful and informative. This is our Third Guide we have ever created with information we first collected for ourselves ever since this game made it's US debut. We decided we would share more of our knowledge we have collected on this (Yu-Gi-Oh!) game.

We share this in the hopes that this will help many and answer the questions "What Field card works best with (insert Monster's name)?" or "What Cards can I use on the Which field lowers the power of my <insert Monster's name> ?"

Only email us if you'd like to let us know that this Guide has helped you or if you have a suggestion on how to make this Field Guide better or just if you happen to find an error. With that said, Do Not Email us asking where to get a certain card those will be ignored. We can't guarantee this is 100% error free due to information transferring, but we can tell you that all the information contained in this Field FAQ/Guide has been personally tested by us and us only therefore free of rumors from outside sources. Enjoy this Guide and we hope it helps All that enjoy this game.

This is our Final update for this Guide no more updates needed unless there are errors we find.

We hope this will make your dueling experience much better compared to when there was no Field Guide at all.

(On a side note this guide was altered a little to fit the format of this site you found it on if you would like to see it in it's entirety go to our website to find the unaltered version once we have put it up.)

#####Notes for Users of this guide#####

All Cards Raises by 500 unless otherwise noted

If you see (- 500) next to a card this means it powers down on that particular field. We also had to alter a few of the cards names to make it all fit in this format. If you would like to see the unaltered version you can visit our website you can locate the url at the contact information section.
