How long has it been? Well, just so you know, the reason I haven't done any articles for this site for nearly 2 years can be attributed to the death of my computer on September 29th, 2004...

But, fortunately, I got a new one about a couple weeks ago and now I'm back, yall! And what better way to make my comeback than with a quote/ending list for the Super NES version of the Data East fighter, Fighter's History?

Yeah, I know what you're thinking: 'Why? In the name of all that is holy, WHY Fighter's History!? That game is so [insert subversive adjective]!!!' Hey, why not? I have nothing better to do. Yeah. I lead that kind of life. Let's get started already...
