OBJECT OF THE GAME/GAME DESCRIPTION

Enjoy World Cup action as you move your team up and down the field. Perform kick-offs, throw-ins, goal kicks and corner kicks — just like in a real soccer match. You can choose (from 1 ~ 5) the skill level of the opposing team, so as your team improves, so does your opponents. Select a computer team or play against a friend. You even choose the length of the match, and as time ticks down, be prepared for a great half-time show.

Soccer TerminologyKickoff:

The kick that begins a game or the kick that restarts play after a goal (performed by the team against which the goal was scored).

Throw-in:

Throw-ins are performed when the ball goes out of bounds over a sideline. A player from the team that didn't knock the ball out passes the ball to a team member from the point at which the ball went out.

Goal kick:

You are allowed a goal kick when a member of the opposing team knocks the ball out of bounds over your goal line. A player from your team kicks the ball in from either the "upper" or "lower" corner of the penalty area, depending on where the ball went out (either above or below the goal on the screen).

Corner kick:

The opposing team is allowed a corner kick when you knock the ball out of bounds over your own goal line. A player from the opposing team kicks the ball in from either the "upper" or "lower" corner area, depending on where the ball went out (either above or below the goal on the screen).

Indirect free kick:

Indirect free kicks are performed after offside violations. A member from the team that didn't commit the violation kicks the ball in from the place where the violation occurred. He is not allowed to kick directly at the goal.

Offsides:

In order to pass to a player on your own team, at least two players from the opposing team (including the goalkeeper) must be present between the player and the opponent's goal line for the pass to be legal. Otherwise, an offside penalty occurs. When this violation occurs, the opposing team is awarded an indirect free kick.

Note that offsides are not called past the half-field line due to screen limitations.
