THE ULTIMATE EVOLUTION IN COMBAT

---

For decades, SEAL teams have been elite U.S fighting forces. Naval Special Warfare and the SEALs evolved from the necessities of World War II amphibious combat. Before delivering thousands of soldiers onto beaches in landing craft, underwater demolition teams wearing swim masks and fins had to sneak in from the ocean, recon the area and remove hazards, sometimes with high explosives. SEAL teams are small, highly lethal attack squads of stealthy soldiers. By 1962 this method of fighting had a name: Unconventional Warfare, and the SEALs were formed to meet the needs of a new type of combat.

SEALs are exceptionally well-trained, tactically intelligent students of warfare, masters of hand-to-hand combat, and experts with any weapon from knives to heavy machine guns. While a single SEAL is dangerous, an entire fireteam is even more so. When the smoke clears, SEALs are victorious because of teamwork. In a firefight, no terrorist threat is a match for an efficient SEAL fireteam. Each member is trained to protect other team members, never hesitating to act for the good of the mission, and the team, in every combat scenario.

Now you are the commanding officer of a four-man SEAL fireteam. You will deploy on missions to neutralize terrorist threats from South America to Russia. Take on explosive urban firefights, breach hardened defenses, rescue non-combatants or capture terrorist assets. The success of each mission will depend on extreme stealth and the lethal teamwork that marks every SEAL operation.

When you are ready for SEAL warfare online, join up to 15 other players and take sides as a SEAL, Terrorist, or other special operations units. This is the true test of teamwork. Each battlefield will offer even the most seasoned soldier a tactical challenge. The headset will keep you in voice contact with every other teammate so you can adapt your strategy even as the bullets fly.

Terrorism is a threat to freedom all over the world and the unconventional tactics of U.S. Navy SEALs are needed. This is the time. When they picked a fight, they never planned on fighting these guys.

USING THE HEADSET

Note: SOCOM II: U.S. Navy SEALs is designed to issue voice commands via the SOCOM headset or USB headset (for PlayStation®2). However, the headset is optional. You can also issue commands using button controls.

Use the headset to:

- Issue voice commands to your SEAL team during single player missions.
- Receive Commands and Intel updates from SOCOM during single player missions.
- Conduct 2-way conversations with other players during Online Games. See “Online Communication” for information on headset usage.

ISSUING VOICE COMMANDS (SINGLE PLAYER)

To send a voice command to your team, first press ○ to open the command menu. Say the command exactly as it appears on the menu out loud until you become comfortable with them. A command consists of three basic components spoken with a normal voice into your headset microphone:

1. Say WHO you are commanding—This is the first part of a command and the first menu you see displayed on-screen. Say “FIRETEAM” if you are directing an order to all three members. Say “BRAVO” if you intend to issue an order to only the two members of Bravo Element. Say “ABLE” if you want only your partner to take action. Say “ESCORTEE” to direct an order to someone traveling with your team.

Note: Other names will appear for various characters that can travel with your SEAL team in later missions.

2. Say WHAT you want done—This is the second part of the command to communicate what you want done. The menu will appear to prompt you.
3. Say WHERE or HOW you want the order carried out—in some cases you need to further define your order. It may be a map location or the type of explosive you want deployed. See “The Commands” section to view all the commands you can issue to your team.

LISTENING

You hear three different types of communication during single player games:

- Team member communications which include acknowledging your orders or giving situation reports including kills, warnings and personal status.
- Objective status reports and new intel important to the mission.
- Warnings when you drift out of the mission area.

THE COMMANDS (SINGLE PLAYER)

MOVEMENT AND POSITION COMMANDS

Use movement and position commands to specify exact positions or map coordinates.

Using the Crosshairs as a Pointer

Use the crosshairs to send team member(s) to a position or alert them to something at a specific location.

Position the crosshairs on the point of interest and issue your command finishing with the word "Crosshairs." For example, place your crosshairs over an enemy and issue the command "BRAVO...ATTACK TO...CROSSHAIRS." Bravo will move into position and attack the enemy.

Note: Your crosshairs do not have to be on an enemy to execute an "ATTACK TO" command.

Your crosshairs can be on a door, building or even the ground, and your teammates will move to that position, attacking any targets of opportunity they see.

Using Nav Points

Nav Points are map coordinates marking key positions in your op area and are created prior to insertion. They are always Charlie, Delta, Echo, Foxtrot, Juliet, Romeo, Whisky, X-Ray or Zulu. View them on the Tactical Map display by pressing SELECT and using the analog sticks to navigate and zoom the map. See "TacMap and Mission Objectives" for detailed instructions on using the Tactical Map.

Note: Moving to a specific point during a mission may be a required objective.

Follow

You take point and the team follows behind you and assumes your body position. For example, if you advance in prone position, they will too.

Run to

SEALs run to a designated position.

Lead To

Use this command to decide whether Able or Bravo will take point when moving from one objective to the next. Bravo unit leads only if you are within a certain distance of them. If you are outside that distance they will wait until you are in range to begin leading again. Able teammate Jester will take the lead but change to "Following" if you drift too far from him.

Attack To

Designate who will advance to a specified position, while firing at any enemy encountered. If using the crosshairs to point at an enemy, your team will attempt a shot instantly.

Stealth To

Advance as quietly as possible in a prone position while taking advantage of the terrain, structures or foliage to minimize the chance of discovery.

Hold Position

Hold position until commanded otherwise.

Regroup

The team will move to your position.

TACTICAL COMMANDS

Fire At Will

SEALs will fire on any enemy encountered.

Deploy

Use explosive weapons. If your SEALs are equipped with grenades, C-4 or satchel charges, they will respond.

Cover Target

Give the command to cover a specific point. Enemies entering that zone will be fired upon. Place your crosshairs on the location and issue the command. Your SEALs must have visual contact on the specified area to carry out this order.

Hold Fire

Hold fire until you countermand the order.

Overwatch

Teammates will cover a designated area, calling out any enemies that they see. Place your crosshairs on the location and issue the command.

Frag/Clear

Deploy a fragmentation grenade and clear the breached area.

Bang/Clear

Deploy a flashbang and clear the breached area.

Breach

Open door, deploy grenade and clear area on other side.

Escort

When traveling with an escortee who needs protection, give this command to Bravo Element and they will bring the escortee with them, and follow additional commands.

SINGLE PLAYER TEAM STRUCTURE AND MOVEMENT

The Team you command consists of two elements:

- Specter (You) and Jester are Able Element.
- Wardog and Vandal are Bravo Element.

The SEALs in Bravo operate close together and execute your orders as a pair. You can send them almost anywhere in the op area, giving you flexibility in suppression of enemy forces, ambushes and extraction of personnel.

You can send Jester a short distance from you to execute some orders, but one of his primary jobs is to cover you, so he will never travel too far from your position. If you move away from his position, Jester always joins up with you.

OTHER SPECIAL FORCES

During certain missions, your Bravo Element will be replaced with special forces from other allied countries.

SINGLE PLAYER MISSION SUCCESS

The success of your mission is measured by several factors. Perfection for any factor is 100% for completing all objectives. You are graded from A to F.

STEALTH

One thing that makes SEALs deadly is their ability to strike undetected. Each time your team is discovered and the enemy communicates your presence to others, you lose points for stealth.

ACCURACY

Hitting targets increases your accuracy ratings, while missed shots lower it. The accuracy of your teammates is also counted

TEAMWORK

Use your team for cooperative engagements. The more you use your teammates during the course of a mission, the higher your Teamwork rating will be.

PRIMARY OBJECTIVES

These are the most important Mission Objectives and have the largest impact on mission success. Primary objectives must be completed to accomplish a mission.

SECONDARY OBJECTIVES

You can fail a secondary objective and still succeed at the overall mission, but failed secondary objectives lower your overall grade.

SINGLE PLAYER MISSION FAILURE

---

Your mission fails under the following conditions:

- You are incapacitated.
- A mission critical character, such as a hostage or escortee, is killed.
- A mission critical target escapes.

- You abort a mission.

ONLINE MISSION TYPES

As you cycle through Game Lobbies on the Briefing Room screen, check under Game Details on the lower left side of the screen. The mission type appears at the top of the list to help you decide which game to join.

Breach

SEALs attempt to break through barriers and destroy key targets in a terrorist stronghold. Terrorists use their fortifications to prevent the SEAL incursion. Air strikes are available on BREACH maps.

Demolition

Find the bomb and blow up the opposition headquarters. Get hold of the bomb and you become the hunted as enemy troops try to kill you and your team before their headquarters is destroyed. Lose the bomb and you're on defense. Plant the bomb in the enemy base and prevent it from being defused by the enemy until it blows up.

Suppression

This is a pure fight to the death between SEALs and terrorists with a five minute time limit. The winner has the most men left standing. Suppression maps can be set to respawn and players will instantly come back to life after being killed to rejoin the fight.

Escort

Key personnel need to be moved to a secure location. SEALs win by getting at least two VIPs to the extraction point or killing all terrorists. Terrorists win by eliminating all VIPs or all SEALs.

Extraction

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN A SEAL CAREER ?

DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES TO WEAR
THE TRIDENT OR SWCC PIN?
THE REAL WORK—FIND, FIX AND FINISH

The terrorist attacks on America September 11, 2001 and the escalation of large-scale, indiscriminate attacks worldwide demands that the U.S. military adapt to this new kind of war being waged. To meet the challenge, Special Operations has become the force of choice to combat terrorism, and Naval Special Warfare is leading the fight. At the tip of the NSW spear are SEALs (sea, air, land) commandos and SWCCs (Special Warfare Combatant-craft Crewmen), boat warriors who operate and maintain the state-of-the art, high performance surface craft used in overseas coastal patrol and interdiction, and in support of maritime special operations missions.

Naval Special Warfare employed the largest number of SEALs and SWCCs in its history during Operation IRAQI FREEDOM. NSW forces were instrumental in numerous special reconnaissance and direct action missions including securing oil infrastructures and offshore gas and oil terminals to avoid ecological catastrophe; clearing strategic waterways to enable the first humanitarian aid to be delivered to the vital port city of Umm Qasr; capturing high value targets; carrying out raids on suspected chemical, biological and radiological sites; and conducting the first successful POW rescue since WWII. They are known for their trigger discipline—no SEAL or SWCC operators were injured or killed in accomplishing these missions.

During Operation ENDURING FREEDOM in Afghanistan, Naval Special Warfare conducted

advanced force operations, gathered perishable intelligence and provided eyes on target to positively “find” the enemy and destroy more than 500,000 pounds of explosives and weapons. NSW forces exploited tactical intelligence and conducted timely operations to “fix and finish,” and capture or eliminate the terrorist threat. While much of the world’s focus has shifted to Iraq during OIF, NSW forces continue to operate in Afghanistan, routing out Taliban, Al Qaeda and enemy terrorist forces.

The Global War on Terror is a long-term engagement of the utmost importance. While there have been many operational successes in the war on terror, the fight is far from over. One of the challenges facing Special Operations Forces in general, and NSW, in particular, is the considerable time and resources it takes to train an individual to become a highly skilled, effective warrior. SEALs spend more than 2 years in training, and SWCCs, more than 1 year, before being deployed with a Squadron. Naval Special Warfare is exploring ways to grow its forces to meet future wartime requirements, without diminishing the quality of its individual war fighters.

CONSIDER A CAREER IN NAVAL SPECIAL WARFARE

Are you motivated to succeed? Are you determined to persevere? Are you ready to accelerate your life?

NSW is continuously seeking smart, fit, hardworking young men from all backgrounds to join its elite team of special operations forces. SEAL and SWCC training is extremely demanding, both mentally and physically. It’s meant to be. The end result is a cadre of the best-trained warriors in the world. During training, instructors focus on three core pillars:

Men of Character: The nature of the NSW mission requires men who are disciplined, focused, mentally tough and determined to persevere. They are dependable, mature, highly educated professionals who are counted on for their uncompromising integrity and good judgment under extreme stress. These men take pride in upholding the Navy’s Core Values—Honor, Courage and Commitment.

Physical: The nature of NSW missions demands men who are physically fit and capable of operating in every environment, especially the water.

Technical: Finally, maritime Special Operations require operators who are intelligent and can learn new tasks quickly.

Throughout NSW’s rigorous training, students are taught how to think, not what to think. In addition to developing experts in special reconnaissance and direct action missions—the skill sets needed to combat terrorism—NSW forces are taught the tactical skills, advanced technologies and unconventional mindset to succeed against any enemy.

Careers in NSW offer unmatched challenges, adventure and job satisfaction to motivated candidates. To find out more about becoming a SEAL or SWCC, visit NSW’s official websites at www.seal.navy.mil or www.swcc.navy.mil.
