Starting the Game

To skip the opening animation and proceed to the Title screen, press the START button. The Title screen will display two options: New Game and Continue. If there is no save data present on the memory card, or to start the game over from the beginning, select New Game. Press the X button. The game will start from the beginning.

Continue

To continue playing a previously saved game, choose Continue, then press the X button. The Load screen will then be displayed. Only three save files can be displayed on the screen at a time. Move the cursor up or down to display additional save files that may be on the Memory Card.

To help differentiate between the save files, each save file will list the following information: character's current level, game time, and location of the save. To load the game, move the cursor to select the desired file. Press the X button. The game will then be loaded.

Please do not remove the memory card during a save or a load.

Memory Cards

In Arc I, an empty memory card can store up to fifteen individual save files. Dual memory card support allows the game to recognize two different memory cards (one in MEMORY CARD slot 1 and one in MEMORY CARD slot 2). The L1 and R1 buttons switch between installed Memory Cards when loading or saving a game.

Also, due to the fact that Arc Collection uses numbered save file names, we do not recommend that you copy individual saves with the Playstation Memory Manager, but rather load the save you want to copy, change the card, and save the game.

Map Screen

Arc the Lad™ is divided into three main areas: Events, Maps, and Battles. In between the many story events that occur during the game, the Map screen will be displayed. This screen can be used to select new areas to explore, return to previous locations, and to save the game.

Once the Map screen is displayed, press the directional buttons to display Arc's current location—which can easily be located by the flashing color. The name of the currently selected location will also be displayed on the map. Use the directional buttons to select which location to visit. Once a decision has been made, press the X button. Sometimes a reminder to save the game will be displayed; otherwise, Arc will travel to that area.

Later in the game, when Arc gets control of the King's airship, he can then choose which continent to explore. The World Map will display the continents that Arc is allowed to visit. Move the cursor to select which continent to explore. Press the X button. The airship will then travel to that location. After arriving, Arc and his companions will once again go to the Map screen. From the Map screen, choose which location to explore.

Save Screen

The Save screen can only be accessed via the Map screen. There are two ways to access the Save screen: If the Confirm Save option is set to On at the Options screen, a reminder to save the game will be displayed upon exiting the Map screen; or, by simply pressing the X button on the Map screen.

It is generally a good idea to save before exiting the Map screen when exploring new areas.

Once the Save screen is displayed, use the cursor to select a data slot in which to save the game. To access other save files, move the cursor up or down to display additional save files, or use the L1 or R1 buttons to switch between Memory Cards.

Note: Always saving over the same save location can be unwise. Make it a habit to save in other save slots. This will make it easier to go back to a previously saved location in the game.

To save the game, simply press the X button. The game will automatically be saved.

CAUTION: Before pressing the X button to save the game, make sure that it is okay to save in that location. Once the X button is pressed to save the game, the game will be immediately saved in that data file—there will be no confirmation window (i.e. a yes or no option).

Character Status Screen

The Character Status screen can be accessed from the Battle screen by pressing the START button. This Status screen will display important information regarding a character.

1 Character

2 Accessories

Displays what accessories the character has equipped. Each character can equip a maximum of four accessories. To view what accessories are equipped, press the START button to bring up the Accessories screen. Next, use the cursor to highlight an accessory. To view the item's description, press the \square button.

3 Level

Character's current level. As the character gains experience points, their level will increase.

4 Range

The distance a character can move during combat. The higher the value, the greater the distance they can move during their turn.

5 Hit Points

The character's current and maximum number of hit points (Current HP/Max HP). When a character's HP reaches zero (0), the character will be removed from the Battle screen. Pay close attention to HP! The key to winning is to keep ALL of the characters alive during the many battles.

6 Magic Points

The character's current/maximum number of magic points (MP). When their MP becomes zero (0), the character will be unable to use their special abilities.

7 Attack

The strength of a character's attack. As their attack power increases, so will the strength of their attacks. If an accessory increases the level of attack, one or more small dots will appear next to the number.

8 Magic

The character's ability to use magic. Their magic abilities will become more effective as this value increases. If an equipped item increases their magic ability, one or more small dots will appear next to the number.

9 Defense

The character's ability to defend against enemy attacks. As their defensive ability increases, they will receive less damage when attacked. If an equipped item increases their defensive ability, one or more small dots will appear next to the number.

10 Agility

Character's reaction speed. As the character's agility increases, they will react faster during combat and be able to move sooner. If an equipped item increases their agility, one or more small dots will appear next to the number.

11 Experience Points

The number on the left displays the current experience points, and the number on the right displays the number of points needed to raise to the next level. The more levels gained, the stronger they will become during combat.

12 Jump Level

The character's ability to jump over obstacles. As this value increases, the character will gain the ability to jump over obstacles on the Battle screen.

13 Throw Level

Character's ability to throw items. As their ability increases, they will be able to cause more damage when items are thrown at enemies.

14 Counterattack Level

Character's ability to counter an enemy's attack. As the character's counterattack ability increases, they will gain side and rear counterattack abilities.

15 Catch Level

The character's ability to catch items. As this ability increases, the character will then be able to catch items that are thrown at them. The character may keep the item, or they might throw it back at the enemy.

Accessories Screen

When exiting the Map screen, and before the Battle screen is loaded, it is possible to adjust the characters' equipment. To adjust the characters' equipment, select Yes. Press the  button. The Accessories screen will be displayed. To cancel and proceed directly to the Battle screen, select No. The battle will begin.

During a battle, the Accessories screen can be accessed by pressing the START button twice.

When the START button is pressed once, not only will the Character Status screen be displayed, but also their abilities.

The character's abilities can be arranged on this screen. To rearrange one of the character's abilities, move the cursor to select which ability to relocate. Press the  button. Next, move the cursor to the desired location on the Ability Ring. Press the  button. The ability will be moved to that location.

When the Accessories screen is displayed, accessories can be equipped or unequipped. To equip or unequip an item, select the accessory slot, then press the  button. Once the cursor is located on the Accessories screen, move the cursor to select which accessory will be equipped. Press the  button. The item will be equipped. If you are replacing an existing item, that item will be unequipped first.

Before equipping, hold down the □ button to view a brief description of the accessory.

To unequip an accessory from the character's inventory, move the cursor to select the accessory. Press the  button. When the cursor is on the Accessories screen, move the cursor to an empty area, and press the  button. The accessory will be removed.

Once the equipment has been set up as you please, press the △ button. To confirm the decision to leave the Accessories screen, select Yes, then press the  button. The Battle screen will then be loaded. To cancel and return to the Character's Accessories window, select No, then press the  button.

When the Character Status screen is displayed, use the L1, L2, R1, and R2 buttons to switch between characters. Only the status of the other characters can be viewed; they will not be allowed to enter the Accessories screen.

Remember: Only the Character Status screen can be viewed when it is not a displayed character's turn.

Battle Screen

On the Battle screen, all of the characters and enemies will be displayed. To scroll around the screen, hold down both the L1 and R1 buttons to display the free cursor. Now, use the directional buttons to move around the screen. To move faster, hold down the L1 or R1 button.

Move the cursor to an enemy to view its name. When it's moved to a character, their name and stats can be displayed.

When moving the characters around the screen, it is possible to view their current/maximum HP and MP. A few seconds after the character has been selected, their HP and MP will be displayed.

Once a character's HP reaches zero (0), they will be removed from the Battle screen. Also, when their MP reaches zero (0), they will be unable to cast spells. Remember to pay close attention to these stats!

At the end of each battle, the Result screen will be displayed. All of the characters in the party are shown here with two icons next to each.

Number of kills.

Experience gained.

All of the items collected during battle will be displayed at the bottom of the screen.

Item Screen

Access the Item screen during combat by pressing the button. Items can be used to recover a character's HP/MP, return them to normal status, raise their abilities, cause damage to the enemy, or diminish an enemy's abilities.

When an item is highlighted, its name and quantity will be displayed in a text box. Hold down the button to view a brief description of the item.

To use an item on a character, move the cursor to select an item. Press the button. The cursor will then be placed on the character. To have the character use the item on themselves, simply press the button. The character will then use that item.

To use an item to benefit another party member, move the cursor to the desired character. Press the button. The character will throw the item to the party member.

To use an item on an enemy, move the cursor to select an item. Press the button. Now, move the cursor to select the enemy. Press the button. The character will throw the item at the enemy.

Be careful when selecting items, as some will harm or even kill party members. That's why it's always important to read the description of the item before using it. Remember, safety first.

Cast of Characters

Elc

Elc is the last of the Pyrenians, an ancient tribe that had the ability to summon and manipulate flame. While Arc was still a child in Touvil, a small child named Elc watched as the Silver Noah launched a vicious assault that destroyed his entire village. During the raid, Elc was captured and sent to a place code-named White House for further studies. A Hunter known as Shu rescued Elc in the forest near White House, and took him in. While under Shu's care, Elc was taught many battle and survival techniques. Even now, Elc is still haunted by nightmares of his time at White House. As this chapter begins, he is about to take an assignment that will force him to confront all that he's struggled to forget.

Starting the Game

To skip the opening animation and proceed to the Title screen, press the START button. The Title screen will display three available options: New Game, Continue, and Convert.

If there is no save data present on the memory card, or to start the game over from the beginning, select New Game. Press the X button. The game will start from the beginning.

Continue

To continue playing a previously saved game, choose Continue. Press the X button. The Load screen will be displayed. Only three save files can be displayed on the screen at a time. Move the cursor up or down to display additional save files.

To help differentiate between save files, each save file will list the game time and save location. To load the game, move the cursor to select the desired file. Press the X button. The game will be loaded.

Please do not remove the memory card during a save or a load.

Convert

Use the Convert option to import Arc I save data into Arc II. Converting save data will unlock special events that are ONLY available when save data is converted.

Note: In order to convert a save file, the file has to be at the end of Arc I.

To convert the data, select Convert. Press the X button. The Convert screen will be displayed. Next, move the cursor to select a file to convert. Press the X button. The save file will be converted, and the game will start.

Note: Arc II requires 2 free blocks to save the game. Before converting data, make sure that there is enough room on the memory card to save the game.

Memory Cards

An empty memory card can store up to seven individual save files. Dual memory card support allows the game to recognize two different memory cards (one in MEMORY CARD slot 1 and one in MEMORY CARD slot 2). Use the L1 or R1 buttons to switch between memory cards when loading or saving a game.

Map Screen

Arc the Lad III is divided into three main areas: Events, Maps, and Battles. When leaving towns or other areas, the Map screen will be displayed. Use this screen to select new areas to explore, or to return to previous areas.

On the Map screen, press the  button to access the Game menu, or use the SELECT button to access the Option screen.

Once the Map screen is displayed, the current location of the character will be displayed. Move the character to another area by means of the directional buttons. To enter this area, press the  button. To confirm this decision, select Yes. The character will then enter that area. To cancel and stay on the Map screen, select No.

More locations will become available as the game progresses, so make it a habit to search the entire map for new areas.

Later in the game, when Elc gets control of his airship, he will then be allowed to choose which continent to explore. The World Map will display the continents that Elc is allowed to visit. Move the cursor to select which continent to explore. Press the  button. The airship will then travel to that location. After arriving, the Map screen will once again be displayed. From the Map screen, choose which area to enter.

Save Screen

Once the Save screen is displayed, use the cursor to select a data slot in which to save the game. To access other save files, move the cursor up or down to display additional save files, or use the L1 or R1 buttons to switch between memory cards.

Note: Don't always save over the same save slot. Make it a habit to save in other save slots. This will make it easier to go back to a previously saved location in the game.

To save the game, simply press the  button. The game will automatically be saved.

CAUTION: Before pressing the  button to save the game, make sure that it is okay to save in that save slot. Once the  button is pressed to save the game, the game will be immediately saved in that data file—there will be no confirmation window (i.e. a yes or no option).

To access the Game menu, press the □ button. The actual game time will be displayed above the Game menu. Note that the game timer will be paused when the menu is loaded. The Game menu displays the following options: Items, Equip, Status, Monsters, Restart, and Options.

Two of the character's abilities can be programmed to the L2 or R2 buttons. To program an ability to one of these buttons, first move the cursor to select the ability. Second, choose the ability's level by using the left or right directional buttons. Finally, press either the L2 or R2 button. The ability will then be set to that button.

To rearrange a character's abilities in the Abilities window, press either the L1 or R1 button to highlight the ability. Move the cursor to the new position. Press the L1 or R1 button. The ability will then be moved to that location.

Continue selecting characters until the battle party is set up. Then press the Start button to begin the battle. To remove a character from the battle party, press the Y button.

When the cursor is moved to an enemy or character, their stats will be displayed.

When the entire battle party is killed, the battle will start over from the beginning. However, there is a penalty for getting the party killed: they will lose half of their wealth, along with any items used during the battle.

On the brighter side, characters will keep the experience points they received before they were killed. This allows the characters to continue to increase their levels no matter how many times a battle has to be replayed. They'll be buff 'n broke.

Places To Visit

When visiting a new town or village, make it a habit to visit the local inn. Here it is possible to rest (for a small fee), and to save the game. When the character sleeps they will recover their HP and MP. Also, make sure to save the game by using the journal.

Bars and pubs are among the best places to dig up information. If Elc becomes stuck in his quest, it might be time to visit one of the local pubs. It's always amazing what people will say once they've got a few pints in their gut.

When arriving in a new town, don't forget to search for the following shops: Hunters' Guild, Weapon and Item Shops, Combine Shop, and Smith Shop.

Remember to visit Mother Claire to change a monster's class, sell monsters, or allow the characters to gain special abilities. Also, visit Vilmer's Lab so that Diekbeck's experience points can be given to other party members. These shops are described on the following pages.

Hunters' Guild

The Hunters' Guild is the perfect place to go to get jobs, view wanted posters, and chat with fellow Hunters. In each guild there will be a clerk that is located behind the counter. Talk with him, and he will display the following five options: Accept job, Present jobs, Former jobs, Get bounty, and Exit.

Note: Options that are written in gray cannot be selected.

Accept job

To take on a job, select Accept job from the Guild menu. Press the * button. In the middle of the screen, a job list will be displayed. The box at the bottom of the screen will display the following information: Reward (amount of money the job pays), and Merits (amount of guild points awarded when the job is complete).

After choosing a job, press the * button. A brief description of the job will then be displayed. To accept the job, select Yes. Press the * button. The party will accept the job. To cancel, select No.

If more jobs are available, the clerk will ask if you need another job. To get another job, select Yes. To cancel and return to the menu, select No.

In the bottom box, the party's current Wealth and Merits will be displayed. To collect the reward, select Yes. Press the * button. The reward will be given to the party. To cancel and return to the menu, select No.

Wanted Posters

Also, located in the Guilds are wanted posters. To check out wanted monsters, walk up to the poster wall and press the * button. The wanted posters will be displayed. Move the cursor to select a monster. Press the * button. The poster will display the following information: Name (Monster's name), Class (type of monster), Reward (amount of money offered for its capture), Sighted (its last known location), and Special (its special ability). Press the * button to exit.

Note: If you encounter a wanted monster without first reading his wanted poster in the Hunters' Guild, you will NOT get paid for getting that monster. Read all the posters in each new Guild as a matter of habit.

When traveling to the many different villages, be sure to stop by and check out the local shops. These places feature items, weapons, and armor. Make it a habit to upgrade the characters' weapons and armor. The stronger the characters are, the easier it will be to survive the many battles they will have to fight. Also, don't forget the important healing items; they are priceless. There are three available options: Buy, Sell, and Exit.

If Diek is in the party, then move to the Divide machine. Press the  button. Two options will be displayed: Divide EXP (give experience points to party members) and Exit (exits the menu).

Starting the Game

Arc Arena will only work with save data from Arc II. However, certain save data will not work with the monster game (for example, if Lieza is not in the party, you can't control monsters, hence, there are no monsters to put in the arena). If the save data is incompatible, it will say simply "No Arc Arena Data", even though it may exist.

To begin playing the game, choose which game mode to play: One Player or Two Player. Press the  button. The Load screen will be displayed. Move the cursor to select which data to load. Press the  button. The game will begin.

To exit the Load screen and return to the Title screen, press the + button.

Please do not remove the memory card during a save or a load.

In order for two people to play, Player 1's memory card should be in MEMORY CARD slot 1, and Player 2's memory card should be in MEMORY CARD slot 2.

To begin playing a two player game, choose Two Player from the menu. Press the  button. Now, select which save data Player 1 will load. Press the  button. Player 1's data will be loaded.

Next, choose which save data Player 2 will use. Press the  button. Player 2's save data will then be loaded, and the game will begin.

Pressing the + button on Player 2's Load screen will display the following options: Play alone (the game will begin with only Player 1's save data loaded) and Load again (return to Player 2's Load screen).

Please do not remove the memory card during a save or a load.

Before the game can be played, choose which character each player will be represented by: the boy or the girl. Use the directional buttons to select a character. Once a decision has been made, press the  button. The game will then begin.

Note: If two players are playing, the second player's character will be the one that the first player doesn't choose (Duh!).

During a two player game, Player 1 will have control of the main character. Player 2's controller will not work until they enter a special shop or the arena. To change the control of the main character, Player 1 or 2 needs to press the START button. Next, select which player will control the character: Player 1 or Player 2. Press the  button. The selected player will then be in control.

Game Menu

To access the Game menu, press the □ button. There are six options: Items, Equip, Status, Monsters, Options, and Operation. Since Operation is the only option that is specific to Arc Arena, it will be the only one discussed. For information regarding the other options please refer to the Game menu section under Arc II, beginning on page 56.

Operation

To set a combatant's (party member's) operation, first select Operation from the Game menu. Press the  button. When the Character window is displayed, move the cursor to select a party member. Press the  button. Next, move the cursor to select how the character will act (react) during combat. Press the  button. The character's operation will be set, and the screen will return to the Character window.

Manual

This option (available during VS Battle and Tournament) lets the player control the actions of the combatant directly.

Auto

The computer controls all of the combatant's actions.

Offense

The combatant will primarily use offensive attacks and abilities.

Defense

The combatant will use defensive abilities and healing items.

Brute Force

The combatant will only use their normal attacks; special abilities will not be used.

Avoid

Combatants will try to avoid fighting; however, if attacked, they will counterattack.

Shops

There are a number of places to visit during the monster game: Iga's Dojo, Trading Bazaar, Shante's Theatre, Chongara's Shop, Mother Claire's Den, Vilmer's Lab, Smith, and Monster Arena.

However, some of the many options that these shops have to offer are already discussed under the Arc II section of this manual. Thus, only specific areas of Arc Arena will be discussed.

Iga's Dojo

Located inside the dojo will be Iga and his students. Iga will ask if you want him to explain about the Monster Game. Choose Knowledge, please to have Iga explain the Arena gameplay (only by choosing this option will the Train me option be accessible).

To bypass Iga's brain-numbing speech, choose I ask nothing.

After Iga explains all about the Arena, he will display the following option: Train me. This option will allow the party to train in the Arena. To begin training, select Train me. Press the  button. Iga will then warp the party to the Arena. From here, up to four combatants can take part in the battle. After the training session, the party will return to Iga's Dojo.

Trading Bazaar

The Trading Bazaar allows weapons, armor, items, and monsters to be traded between Player 1 and Player 2. Before trading can begin, a two player game must be started (go visit Sania in the Monster Arena to load games). There are two rooms inside the Trading Bazaar: Elc's Room (trade weapons, armor, and items), and Lieza's Room (trade monsters). Andel is the receptionist, and may be a little—disillusioned, to say the least.

Weapons, armor, or items can be given to the other player. Talk to Elc, who is behind the counter, in order to start an exchange. Select Yes to start trading, or No to cancel.

Note: Before talking to Elc, press the START button to choose who will trade. If Player 1 is selected then they will give items to Player 2, or vice versa.

Elc's Room

After selecting Yes, the Item screen will be displayed. Next, move the cursor to select which item to trade. Press the X button. To confirm the decision to trade the item, select Yes. Press the X button. The item will be traded. To cancel the trade, select No.

Note: To exit the menu, press the △ button.

Lieza's Room

Trade monsters or view the Monster Book. Talk to Lieza, who is behind the counter, to start trading. Lieza will ask whether or not to start a trading session. Select Yes to start trading, or No to cancel.

Note: Before talking to Lieza, press the START button to choose who will trade. If Player 1 is selected then they will trade monsters to Player 2, or vice versa.

After selecting Yes, the Monster screen will be displayed. Next, move the cursor to select which monster to trade. Press the X button. To confirm the decision to trade this monster, select Yes. The monster will then be given to that player. To cancel the trade, select No.

To view the Monster Book, first select No when Lieza asks about trading monsters. Then she will ask whether or not to view the Monster Book. Select Yes to view the book or No to exit.

Note: In order to view the Monster Book, Chongara must have been encountered in Arc II, and Lieza must have used her Search ability on a character or an enemy in the regular Arc II game.

Shante's Theatre

Shante

Listen to Shante's song, or the characters battle voices. Talk to Shante and she'll perform her song from Arc II. Also, in the XA Theatre, characters from the game will perform skits on the stage.

To listen to the song, or watch the XA Theatre, talk to Shante, go through the door at the back of the room, and the performance will begin.

Odon

To watch Odon's Impersonation Show, first read the sign next to Odon. Then go and talk to Odon. He will display a list of characters that he'll imitate. After choosing a character, press the * button. Odon will then morph into that character.

After morphing into the character, Odon will display a list of sound clips. After choosing a sound clip, press the * button to play that sample.

Chongara's Shop

Buy or Sell items. While battling in the Arena, it will be necessary to buy items to keep the characters in good health or to throw at the enemies to cause them damage.

Chongara will sell many of the same items that are found in Arc II; however, there will be a few rare items that can only be found in his shop here in Faust Village.

Mother Claire's Den

Change a monster's class, sell monsters, or allow the characters to add special abilities. After talking to Mother Claire, the menu will be displayed with the following four options: Class Change, Add Ability, Sell Monster, and Exit. These options are discussed on page 84.

Vilmer's Lab / Smith Shop

Vilmer's Lab

Give Diekbeck's experience points to party members. Since Diekbeck is a machine and is unable to gain levels, use the Divide machine to give his experience points to other party members. If Diekbeck hasn't joined the party, then the Divide machine cannot be used.

To give experience points to others, refer to page 86.

Smith Shop

Raise item levels, equip items, and combine items. Both the Smith shop and the Combine shop are located inside the Smith shop. Talk to the person at the counter to display the following four options: Talk to Master Smith, Talk to Novice Smith, Talk to Billy in Combine Shop, and Exit.

Refer to pages 80-83, for more information regarding Smith Shops and Combine Shops.

Monster Arena

The Arena is the place to go to fight battles, get prizes, and to save and load games. Inside the Arena, there will be four characters: Sania, Gogen, Kukuru, and Yagun. The jobs these characters perform will be discussed in this section.

Yagun

Yagun will allow Player 1 to enter into the Arena, but not until the player has registered with Kukuru. After talking with Kukuru to set up a battle, go and talk to Yagun to gain access to the Arena.

Sania

Save and load games. To save or load data, talk to Sania who will display the following three options: Load, Save, and Exit. To load or save data for Player 1 or Player 2, remember to press the START button to select the appropriate player.

Note: The game will automatically save into the same data slot from which it was loaded. This doesn't apply if a memory card is changed.

Gogen

Talk to Gogen to receive prizes and monsters earned in the Arena. When talking to Gogen, he'll ask whether or not to go to the Warehouse. To go to the Warehouse, select Yes. Press the \times button. Gogen will transport the party to the Warehouse where prizes and monsters can be claimed.

Kukuru

Before starting a battle, remember these rules:

- 1) The party must have at least three combatants. Monsters can be obtained by having Lieza capture them in Arc II, or by trading monsters with your friends at the Trading Bazaar.
- 2) In order to take part in the battle, three or five different teams must be set up. Each team can have up to four combatants.

- 3) There will be three to five battles in the Arena. The team that wins the most battles will be awarded the victory. Basically, try to win all of them, or get the best two out of three, or three out of five victories in order to win.

- 4) The battles must be finished in the allotted turns in order to claim victory.

Talk to Kukuru and she will display the following options: Battle Arena, VS Battle, and Tournament. These options will be discussed on the following pages.

One of those refugees was a boy named Lutz, who became Alec's best friend and confidant. Alec will tell of his desire to be a Hunter to anyone who will listen. Societies

Item Society

Societies are special types of Guilds dedicated to enriching humanity's knowledge of specific classes of beings and things: Items, Weapons, and Monsters. Most towns contain at least one Society, and one special village, called Society Village, contains them all.

The Item Society is known for its study of Items and their properties. Their primary focus is on creating new items through synthesis. The various aspects of this shop are described on this page.

For a small fee, the person behind the counter is willing to impart information about the synthesis of items. Make sure to take advantage of his information. It will help to avoid wasting items.

After successfully synthesizing an item, or after being told how to synthesize an item, it will appear in the reference book on the counter. When in doubt, consult this book for details on combining items and weapons.

The synthesis area contains the following options: Synthesize, Experiment, and Exit.

Synthesize

Produce items that have been successfully created before.

Experiment

Use the items that are in the characters' inventory to try to create new items.

Monster Society

The Monster Society is known for its study of monsters. The main purpose of the Monster Society is to allow Monster Cards to be stored and retrieved.

Take the time to talk to the individuals in the Monster Society. Many of them will be willing to trade Monster Cards.

The person behind the counter will offer the following information: Monster Names, Monster Locations, and Cardishing Monsters. Of course, the information does come at a price.

After encountering a monster on the battlefield, their image and description will be placed in the Monster Book. After selecting a monster's name, press the X button to view all of the known facts about this monster.

Monster Cards can also be stored and retrieved at any of the Monster Societies.

To store or retrieve a Monster Card, talk to the person behind the counter, and simply use the left or right directional buttons to move the card from Theo to the Society or vice-versa.

Remember, Theo is only allowed to carry five (5) cards at any given time.

Translation Notes

Okay, let's get the cliché out of the way...this has been, without a doubt, the largest, most difficult project we've ever undertaken. The sheer size of doing four complete games as one release didn't seem especially overwhelming until we were well into Arc II. That's when it really hit us. At the back end, we've realized that these four games had approximately the same amount of text as THREE LUNAR games, which was our previous record-holder for most text in a game. The total size of the text files were about 23 megabytes (that's 184 megabit for you 16-bit era fans!). Especially in Arc III, there are many places where branches take place four or five times within a single scenario, meaning that if you take a specific path, you've missed 75% or more of the text.

The changes we've made to all three games are far, far too extensive to list, but are comprised mostly of interface changes to make all three games, which were developed over a spread of four years, play like they were made one right after another. Things like DUALSHOCK® analog controller support, maximum memory card save slots (7 or 15, depending on the game), alternating two-controller support (a fan request!), a host of additions to the options screen, streamlined inventory management, game time clock, screen saver (darkens the screen if left alone at the menu), new title screens, and on and on and on. The animations for Arc I and II were recut and edited to be slightly more interesting to watch, and at the same time, we upgraded them to 24-bit playback.

We also worked hard to make sure the Omake box lived up to player expectations, designing exclusive character-based analog button covers, as well as including a memory card holder, and the fan-favorite character standees.

All of this has resulted in the largest console anthology being delivered hot and fresh to your PlayStation® for your gaming enjoyment. We hope you enjoy it as much as we did. Let us know what you think when you've finished it, by snail mail or E-mail. We're always working to bring out the best role-playing experiences possible, and never forget that we're nothing without you!
