*"In the early 1980s, I developed Tetris as a simple exercise in mathematics. I could not have dreamed the impact it would have in the world of games. ## Introduction

"Snakes! Why Did It Have to Be Snakes?"

The nest of deadly snakes has been disturbed by seismic experiments in a remote location. Now the snakes are slithering to the surface, causing confused terror in attacks on everything that crosses their path.

There is a way to control this madness, but it's not going to be easy. The snakes from this nest tend to eat snakes of the same color and design. If you can guide the slithering masses so that snakes of the same type meet and eliminate each other, then the world could be saved from this snake infestation.

It's all up to you! Guide the snakes, find matching pairs and keep the population under control!

Game Play

Object

The object of WildSnake is to keep the snake population in the playing field under control by matching the colors and designs of the snakes and letting snakes of similar types eliminate each other. If the pile of snakes reaches the top of the screen, the game is over.

Game Screen

The basic game screen consists of three main elements:

Playing Field

This is where most of the action takes place. As snakes fall into this area, your mission is to manipulate them so that they touch and eliminate snakes of their own kind. In a one-player game, the playing field can be in one of eight different shapes. The standard rectangle is best for novice players. The shapes with narrow sections and obstacles are more suited to players who are looking for a new challenge.

In a two-player game, there are two playing fields, both of which are made up of the standard vertical rectangle shape.

Preview Box

This small area displays the color, design and length of the next snake to fall. The Preview Box for a two-player game shows the next snake to fall for both playing fields. Pressing the Y Button activates or deactivates the preview feature.

Score and Game Information

In one- and two-player games, the information on the screen shows the current score, the number of snakes that have been eliminated and the current game level. The game level relates to the number of different types of snakes that are appearing and the speed at which the snakes are falling. In the King Cobra Challenge, the score, number of snakes yet to be eliminated and the time remaining are displayed.

Snake Moves

Snakes fall into the playing field one at a time. Your goal is to guide the creatures so that they eliminate as many snakes of the same color and design as possible. You control the head of the snake, moving it to the left and right as it slithers downward. When the snake reaches a dead end, it will stop slithering and freeze in place. If the creatures below a particular snake move or are eliminated, the snake will slither down naturally until it reaches another dead end, eliminating snakes of the same type as it goes. This remobilization of the snakes in a pile can cause the entire pile to shift and shrink, leaving space for more snakes to fall.

Special Snakes

There are two types of special snakes that fall into the playing field at random: the Wild Snake and the King Cobra. The Wild Snake is a flashing creature that eliminates all of the snakes in the pile that match the first snake that it touches. The King Cobra is a creature that falls straight into the field with no input from the player and eliminates all of the snakes in its path. Both of these creatures can cause a cascading chain reaction and drastically change the pile of accumulated snakes.

Options

Before you begin playing WildSnake, use the Options Menu to set the playing conditions. Press Up and Down on the Control Pad to highlight the various types of options and press the A or B Button to cycle through the choices. When the options are set to your liking, highlight the message "Game Start" at the bottom of the screen and press the A or B Button to begin.

Game Type

There are three types of WildSnake games: a one-player game, the King Cobra Challenge and a two-player game where competitors race to eliminate the most snakes in two separate playing fields. The one-player game can be played at Easy, Normal or Hard difficulty settings. The settings determine the number of different types of snakes that appear at the beginning of the game and the speed at which they fall. In the No Preview difficulty settings, the Preview Window on the game screen is not used.

Style

The Style Option determines the background art and the music to be played during the game. You can choose from the Desert, Forest, Water and Grassland styles.

Grid Shapes

Grid Shapes come into play only in the One-Player game. This option determines the shape of the playing field. There are eight different grid shapes which range from a standard vertical rectangle to an hourglass pattern to a field that is littered with obstacle blocks.

One-Player Game

The object of the single player game is to eliminate as many snakes and accumulate as many points as possible. As time goes on, snakes of additional types appear and the creatures fall at a faster rate.

The game levels range from the Nestling level which includes four types of snakes falling at a slow pace to the King Cobra level with 13 types of snakes falling at a considerably faster pace. If you choose the Normal difficulty setting, you'll begin in the Black Snake level where six types of snakes fall. The Hard difficulty setting places you in the Boa level with eight different types of snakes.

You'll earn points for each match. The points per match increase as time and difficulty progresses.

King Cobra Challenge

The King Cobra Challenge is a test of speed and matchmaking accuracy for one player. There are nine challenge levels with a qualifying round before each level begins. The challenges range from eliminating a certain number of total snakes to eliminating eggs with snakes of matching colors to building up a pile of many snakes with Cobras dropping into the playing field. All of the challenges must be completed in a set time limit. If you complete a challenge, you'll be rewarded by the presentation of a short animation sequence of the King Cobra in action.

Two-Player Game

Two players go head-to-head in this split-screen game. The object is to outscore and outlast your opponent in simultaneous snake-matching action.

The game is set in the Normal difficulty setting and the standard grid shape is used for both playing fields.

Making two or more matches with one snake will make the same number of obstacle blocks appear on your opponent's screen.

Slithering Strategies

Here are a few things to keep in mind while you try to control your snake population:

1. As you steer a slithering snake, you can touch and eliminate more than one snake of the same type. Look for multiple elimination opportunities and choose your route wisely.

2. Arrange snakes in columns at the bottom of the screen so that as many snakes as possible are exposed. This will make for a lot of matches and an easy-to-manage group of snakes.

3. You can make the snakes fall into columns by dropping them straight down, one square to the left or right of a snake or wall, then turning them toward the barrier as they hit bottom.

4. Snakes vary in length. Make sure to position long snakes so that horizontal sections won't cover other snakes.

5. Think ahead! When a new snake drops, be aware of where snakes identical to it lie. If an identical snake is exposed, use the dropping snake to eliminate it. If an identical snake lies buried under a different snake, position the dropping snake so that it will automatically cascade into its mate if the snake lying between them is eliminated.
